"Hakuna Matata" sunshine for Shelbrrr Fest

BY MARNI WALSH

Smiles on the kids' faces were not the only thing warming hearts at Shelbrrr Fest on Monday, February 20.

Record breaking temperatures across the province over the weekend (over 17 degrees in Windsor on Sunday) warmed even the frostiest soul, and Monday was no exception.

The sunniest of blue skies smiled over the festivities at Fiddle Park throughout the Family Day event.

Outside of a mucky parking lot, organizers could not have asked for a better day for friends and neighbours to gather with the kids and really enjoy the best winter has to offer during the annual winter carnival.

The fire-pit warming station provided by Stump Busters was still popular, but more for the novel atmosphere than the warmth. Families visited over hot chocolate as they watched the little ones climbing and sliding down Snow Mountain - barely even feeling the cold through wet mitts and snow pants.

A large crowd gathered to see the kids and artistic leaders of LP Stage Productions sing some of their favourite Broadway hits, including "Hakuna Matata" from their upcoming spring production The Lion King.

Students gear up to mark 100th Anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge

BY MICHELLE JANZEN

Local student Eden Galbraith is looking forward to her once in a lifetime, school trip this April to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge.

The Battle of Vimy Ridge was a military engagement fought primarily as part of the Battle of Arras, in the Nord-Pas-de-Calais region of France, during the First World War and is seen as a definitive moment in the Canadian identity.

The Centenary will be marked in April with students from across Canada making the trek to France in memory of the fallen – and Shelburne will be well represented by students like Eden.

Eden tells us the cost of the trip was pretty high, and in order to raise all the funds needed to go she held multiple fundraisers such as selling chocolate covered almonds, selling homemade butter tarts, as well as holding a paint night and a Spaghetti Western.

Each student on the trip is to pick one veteran and research them, to which Eden tells us she is in the process of doing. When asked why she wanted to go on this trip Eden replied, "I thought it would be an awe-some experience to learn about our history and be a part of this year's ceremonies."

We can't wait for Eden to go on this adventure of a life time and report back to us just how incredible it was.

WHY COMMEMORATE VIMY RIDGE?

The main combatants were the Canadian Corps, of four divisions, against three divisions of the German Sixth Army. The battle, which took place from the 9th to the 12th of April 1917, was part of the opening phase of the British-led Battle of Arras, a diversionary attack for the French Nivelle Offensive.

The objective of the Canadian Corps was to take control of the German-held high ground along an escarpment at the northernmost end of the Arras Offensive. This would ensure that the southern flank could advance without suffering German fire.

The Canadian Corps captured most of the ridge during the first day of the attack. The town of Thélus fell during the second day of the attack, as did the crest of the ridge once the Canadian Corps overcame a salient against considerable German resistance.

COMMITTEE OF ADJUSTMENT

1) Application for Minor Variance A17/01 — Loft Planning Inc. has, on behalf of the owner of the property located at 485387 Sideroad 30 (County Road 11), submitted an application for a Minor Variance to request relief from Zoning By-law 38-2007, Section 4.11.2 (x) which permits a maximum height of 10.0 metres whereas 22.5 metres is proposed for a portion of a new building proposed to be added on the property. The additional height is required to facilitate a specialized piece of industrial equipment within a new building proposed to be constructed on the property. As the building height is to accommodate a piece of industrial equipment to be enclosed within the building, only 520 square metres of the 3,707 square metres of proposed new building area will require relief from the maximum permitted height, and the remainder of the building will comply with the maximum height of 10.0 metres. A Site Plan Approval application has been submitted concurrent to the Minor Variance application.

The property currently contains a plastics recycling industrial facility in an existing building. This building has a footprint of approximately 17,560 square metres. The final objective, a fortified knoll located outside the village of Givenchy-en-Gohelle, fell to the Canadian Corps on April 12, 1917. The German forces then retreated to the Oppy–Méricourt line.

By nightfall, the Canadian Corps was in firm control of the ridge. The corps suffered 10,602 casualties: 3,598 killed and 7,004 wounded. The German Sixth Army suffered an unknown number of casualties with approximately 4,000 men becoming prisoners of war. Four members of the Canadian Corps received Victoria Crosses, the highest military decoration awarded to British and Commonwealth forces for valour, for their actions during the battle.

Historians attribute the success of the Canadian Corps in capturing the ridge to a mixture of technical and tactical innovation, meticulous planning, powerful artillery support and extensive training, as well as the failure of the German Sixth Army to properly apply the new German defensive doctrine.

The battle was the first occasion when all four divisions of the Canadian Expeditionary Force participated in a battle together and it was made a symbol of Canadian national achievement and sacrifice. Recent historical research has called this patriotic narrative into question, showing that it developed in the latter part of the twentieth century. The nation-building story only emerged fully formed after most of those who experienced the Great War directly or indirectly had passed from the scene. A 100-hectare (250-acre) portion of the former battleground serves as a memorial park and site of the Canadian National Vimy Memorial.

The Canadian National Vimy Memorial is Canada's largest and principal overseas war memorial. Located on the highest point of the Vimy Ridge, the memorial is dedicated to the commemoration of the Battle of Vimy Ridge and Canadian Expeditionary Force members killed during the First World War. It serves as the place of commemoration for Canadian soldiers killed in France during the First World War with no known grave. France granted Canada perpetual use of a section of land at Vimy Ridge in 1922 for the purpose of a battlefield park and memorial. This 100-hectare (250-acre) portion of the former battlefield is preserved as part of the memorial park that surrounds the monument. The grounds of the site are still honeycombed with wartime tunnels, trenches, craters and unexploded munitions, and are largely closed off for public safety. A section of preserved trenches and a portion of a tunnel have been made accessible Designed by Toronto architect and sculptor Walter Allward, who described his masterwork as a "sermon against the futility of war", the memorial took eleven years and $1.5 million ($20.90 million in present terms) to build and was unveiled on July 26, 1936 by King Edward VIII, in the presence of President Albert Lebrun of France and 50,000 or more Canadian and French veterans and their families. Starting in 2004, the monument underwent a major multiyear restoration project, which included general cleaning and the recarving of many inscribed names.

The Queen rededicated the restored monument on April 9, 2007 during a ceremony commemorating the 90th anniversary of the battle. Veterans Affairs Canada maintains the memorial site.

Author Arnold De Graaff signs a copy of his new book: The Gods in Whom They Trusted - "a guide for those who seek to develop an alternate vision and way of living" in a world of "ecological decline and disintegration." The book had a successful launch at Westminster Church in Orangeville on January 24. Copies are now available at Book Lore in Orangeville. Mr. De Graaff says he is not just presenting a "Utopian dream" in his book, but a guide that translates ideas for world change in "down to earth terms." He addresses ecological, economical and ethical alternatives at a grassroots level. "A radical, but practical way of relating to nature, economics and ethics that leads to healing," he says.

Proudly Pink – Students in Solidarity against bullying

BY MARNI WALSH

February 22 was Stop Bullying Day, or Pink Shirt Day in Ontario, a day of solidarity that stemmed from a 2007 event involving a Grade Nine Maritime student who was bullied when he wore a pink shirt on his first day of school.

News of the harassment led to two other boys distributing pink dollar-store shirts to other boys at the school in order to stop the bullying. They were successful, and in 2012 the idea was picked up by the United Nations and proclaimed internationally.

At Centre Dufferin District High School (CDDHS,) Vice Principal Wendy McIntosh says, "Our February 22 Anti-Bullying day is just part of a bigger picture of what we are trying to achieve at CDDHS."

"The Social Equity Club at the school promoted the day, asking staff and students to wear pink in support of anti-bullying and students were able to silk screen their own anti-bullying t-shirts on Wednesday," she says.

"One voice - One team!" This is the message that staff at Centre Dufferin District High School tries to impart to students, says Vice Principal McIntosh. "We ask them to think about what they want our school to look like and who we want to be," she says.

CDDHS has several programs running throughout the year to combat bullying and promote equity.

"Our staff is also very committed to making CDDHS a safe and inclusive school," says Ms.

Last week the students had the privilege of listening to motivational speaker Orlando Bowen, a former CFL liner backer for the Toronto Argonauts.

His presentation focused on "empowering youth to develop resilience and use their talents to make a difference."

From that assembly, Ms. McIntosh says, "90 students stepped forward to be part of a project that will benefit the community."

In the Pink! A few of the students and staff who wore Pink on February 22 in support of "Stop Bullying Day." This included kids from Grades 9 to 12, many of them part of the Social Equity Committee, and the Student Council, as well as Safe Schools and Multicultural Celebrations Committees. Staff in the photo include Ms. Godbold, Head of Student Development (left in pink wig,) Ms. McIntosh, V.P. (centre,) and, on the far right, back row Ms. Trowel from Guidance, Ms. Rose, French teacher and Head of Social Equity, and teacher and Student Council Staff Advisor Mr. Rush.

Students and staff are currently putting their heads together to develop ideas for the project.

THE STUDY

The Town of Shelburne has initiated a Schedule "C" Municipal Class Environmental Assessment to increase the rated capacity of the Town's existing Water Pollution Control Plant (WPCP) as the current rated capacity of the existing facility is not sufficient to meet the Town's long-term needs. A number of alternatives will be examined as part of this study, and an assessment will be completed to identify the most cost-effective, environmentally sound, and sustainable approach to increasing the capacity of the existing facility. Please see the map below for the project location.

THE PROCESS

The study will be undertaken as a Schedule "C" project in accordance with the requirements of the Municipal Class Environmental Assessment process (Municipal Engineers Association, October 2000, as amended in 2007, 2011, and 2015).

Public input and comments are an important component of the Class EA process. Two (2) Public Information Centres (PICs) will be held during the course of the study to present and receive comments on the project, alternative solutions, and the preferred alternative for increased capacity at the WPCP. Notices for each PIC will be advertised in advance of the public meetings.

Upon completion of the study, the Report will be made available for public review and comment. Another advertisement will be published at that time, indicating where the report can be viewed.

First Line for Syria seeks sponsors for refugee family

BY MARNI WALSH

In the summer of 2015, a small band of neighbours on the First Line of Mono Township launched a campaign to sponsor a Syrian refugee family.

First Line for Syria's fundraising efforts brought the Huseyin Alos family out of a refugee camp in Turkey to begin a new life in Shelburne.

A year later, young Helin and her parents Kahleel and Sabah have become active and treasured members of the community.

The Huseyin Alos were the first of two families, including a family of nine in Shelburne, With over 25,000 refugees arriving in Canwhich were, and continue to be, guided by First Line for Syria with the help and support of the community and Primrose United Church.

Now, stretched to the limit, First Line for Syria is reaching out to the community seeking new sponsors for another refugee family in need.

Before the war, Inaam Alabed was professional woman, a wife and mother of two young sons, working in a managerial position in Syria. Her full and happy life was robbed from her in a single night. Her husband was killed when the mosque where he was praying was bombed by Syrian war planes and, in the same attack, her nine story condominium was razed to the ground, killing her young sons and leaving her permanently debilitated.

Inaan came to Canada a year ago.

She has no family here and deals with constant physical pain and depression as she faces her life alone.

First Line for Syria and the Dufferin Sponsorship group from Orangeville learned of her plight through common connections with their own sponsored families.

Some of the sponsorship group members have visited Inaan in Toronto. She is holding on to the hope that her niece and husband might join her in Canada. Together they could support each other as a single family.

However, the niece and husband need sponsors to help to bring them to Canada and unite them with Inaan.

"We are hoping that another group will step forward possibly and take this woman's cause on for themselves and sponsor her niece and her husband," says Jeff Cottam, a First Line for Syria member. "This would bring hope and a little light to the end of [the] very dark tunnel she finds herself in, through no fault of her

"It need not be a recognized group or organization. It could simply be a group of like-minded individuals getting together to make a difference, just like First Line for Syria was formed just over a year ago."

Jeff spoke warmly of the rewards of the heart that his group has received as sponsors,

"Our Syrian family have transformed our lives too - it is not a one way situation when you help people in need."

ada last year, the Muslim community has been drained of its resources.

Dufferin sponsorship groups have been able to give Inaam some financial help, but Mr. Cottam says it is just a "stop gap measure."

"It is sponsorship for her niece and husband that is key," he says "and why we are seeking support from elsewhere as we are all strained to the limit too."

Anyone interested in helping, may contact Jeff Cottam and First Line for Syria and they will facilitate meetings with Inaam and give sponsorship advice. Jeffrey Cottam may be reached at 519-378-5704 or www.aromatica.

Interested in being a Page?

BY SYLVIA JONES, MPP DUFFERIN-CALEDON

The formalities of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario are steeped in parliamentarian tradition and protocol and, as an MPP, I am privileged to participate in the workings of our provincial government from the chamber floor.

On a daily basis, MPPs have the benefit of the services provided by the Legislative Page program.

In Canada, pages have served in the Legislative Assembly for 150 years.

Pages work at Queen's Park when the Legislative Assembly is in session. Daily duties required of a page include: participating in the Speaker's Parade, delivering documents and messages to MPPs who are in the Chamber, as well as assisting the Speaker, Clerk and Sergeant at Arms.

In addition to page duties, students are required to continue their studies while serving at Queen's Park.

Many students from Dufferin-Caledon have been a part of the page program. Some students from Dufferin-Caledon have stayed with family or friends in Toronto for the time they are in the page program, other families have arranged daily rides for their students who are selected.

In Ontario, the page program is offered to students in Grade 7 and 8 in Ontario, have an 80 percent grade average or higher, and are involved in extra-curricular, community-based activities. Page applicants should show an interest in current affairs and have experiences that demonstrate responsibility, maturity and teamwork. Interested students need to fill out an application, get parental and school consent and write an Generating interest in civics is one of the benefits of the page program. I have heard from many former pages who treasure the experience of being a page because it is their first opportunity to participate in public service and be a part of provincial history.

For educators, there are a number of resources available including; curriculum-linked classroom information, programs and tours that help when discussing government, civics and history. As the MPP, I have met many school tours from Dufferin-Caledon at Queen's Park and I have been invited to visit schools in our community to discuss the role of government. I enjoy meeting with students and answering their questions.

Vigil transcended religion, age, and geography: Crewson

I was sitting in the church that I regularly attend, Trinity United in Shelburne, at 8 p.m. on Sunday February 5, thinking what an atrocious, brutal and wicked act of violence it would be if someone came through the door shooting a gun randomly at the people worshipping.

We were gathered at a vigil to remember the people, who were praying, exactly one week earlier, at a mosque in Quebec City, when, allegedly, Alexandre Bissonnette walked in and began shooting.

Azzedine Soufiane, Abdelkrim Hassane, Mamadou Tanou Barry, Khaled Belkacemi, Aboubaker Thabti and Ibrahima Barry were murdered and others were wounded.

The fear and shock I would have felt, the anger and outrage I would have subsequently felt if I had survived, would have been all consuming.

And so we gathered to show how sorry we were, and continue to be, for the families and friends who have been harmed by the alleged actions of Alexandre Bisson-

Imams and Ministers from several denominations, people young and old from Brampton, Caledon, Fergus and throughout Dufferin County, people from many cultures and traditions gathered to show our unity as Canadians who believe in peace and tolerance; people who believe in the freedom of religion as guaranteed in our Charter of Rights and Freedoms; people who accept and respect one another as partners on this earth, in this time.

I want to express my heart-felt sadness for the murder of these six men and to the others who have been harmed by the actions of Alexandre Bissonnette on the night of January 29, 2017 and offer my sincere sympathy to their families and friends.

Peace be with you and peace be among

Liberal Government Failing Our Troops Fighting ISIS

BY DAVID TILSON, MP DUFFERIN-CALEDON

Fred M. Claridge, Publisher 1964-1974 Thomas M. Claridge 1974-2012 The Free Press and Economist was formed from the amalgamation of The Shelburne Free Press (est. 1875) and The Shelburne Economist (est. 1883) in 1928.

The Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) is a great source of pride for all Canadians, and for a very good reason: they courageously serve our country and ensure our peace and

We owe it to these outstanding men and women to stand by them for the exceptional service they give to Canada. It is, therefore, incomprehensible that the current Liberal government is taking away a tax benefit which provides $1,500 to $1,800 per month for Canadian troops fighting against ISIS.

This is hardly standing by our country's fin-

The loss of the tax benefit, which is given to troops who meet a particular set of criteria associated with the level of risk of their duties and hardship they face where they're stationed overseas, was first experienced by 15 soldiers at Camp Arifjian last September.

After the issue was raised on multiple occasions by Conservative MPs, the current Liberal government decided to end the benefit entirely for all Canadian troops deployed in Kuwait. What's even more surprising is that the current government still moved forward in taking away this benefit when the U.S. government provides tax exemption status to its soldiers fighting ISIS.

The current Liberal government appears to have forgotten that the tremendous men and women of the CAF volunteer to leave their families as they travel abroad to perform dangerous work and they put themselves at risk in service of their country.

They miss important milestones with their families, such as birthdays, anniversaries, and graduations when serving abroad.

The current government has now known for months that Canadian troops who are deployed in the fight against ISIS haven't been adequately compensated for the risk and hardship associated with their deployment.

The decision to discontinue the tax benefit for Canadian troops deployed in the fight against ISIS was made after the troops had agreed to be deployed.

In cutting this benefit, the current government has cheated our troops and their families out of hard-earned money that they expected, counted upon, and deserve. It's completely shocking this current government, which appears to have no concern about racking up record deficits, would choose to tighten the purse strings on the backs of the hard working men and women of the CAF.

Their solution to this issue is equally appalling - instead of restoring the benefits our troops at Camp Arifjian deserve, they decided to revoke the benefit for all our troops who are fighting ISIS.

The Conservative Official Opposition, in contrast, has been listening to the families of those affected.

We have raised the issue on multiple occa-

Prime Minister Trudeau has no excuse for raising taxes on our troops.

While he plans to deploy our troops on a dangerous mission to Africa for no other reason than to win himself a seat on the United Nations Security Council, our troops who are already deployed in the fight against ISIS, are being neglected.

Our troops deserve our full support. We call on the current government to finally do its job, reverse this abhorrent decision to revoke important benefits for our troops, and support these brave men and women who stand on guard for all of us.

They deserve nothing less from their govern-

Charges lain after man makes death threats brandishing baseball bat

On Thursday, February 16, during the morning hours, Shelburne Police responded to a call of a male walking in Shelburne with a baseball in a rage, allegedly on his way to assault another male over an ongoing dispute.

The suspect was intercepted by police on his way to the victim's residence. The suspect was distraught and uttering threats towards the intended victim as Shelburne Police officers verbally engaged him in an attempt to calm him down and drop the baseball bat.

The suspect ended up dropping the baseball bat and complying with police. This ordeal caught the attention of many citizens in the area.

The suspect was arrested and the baseball bat was seized. As a result, the male was charged with Weapons Dangerous, Uttering Death Threats, and Cause Disturbance.

Thankfully there were no injuries as a result of this incident.

The name of the suspect is not being released due to the nature of some of the relationships connected to the dispute.

If anyone has any information in relation to this case or any other matter, they are encouraged to contact the Shelburne Police Service at 519-925-3312 or anonymously through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or online at www.crimestopperssdm.com.

SHELBURNE POLICE SUPPORTS OACP CRIME PREVENTION CAMPAIGN

The Shelburne Police Service is supporting the Ontario Association of Chiefs of Police's (OACP) 2017 Crime Prevention campaign (#CrimePreventionONT), which includes the Top 10 crimes or potential situations where victimization can occur, as identified by the Province's top police crime prevention experts.

The OACP asked top community safety and crime prevention policing experts – all members of the OACP's Community Safety and Crime Prevention Committee - to identify crimes or situations where victimization can lead to criminal acts against persons or property.

The goal of the "Shoulda Coulda Woulda: Crime Prevention Starts With You" campaign is to heighten awareness of the simple things we can all do to protect our property and personal safety and well-being.

Shelburne police officers work with many individuals and groups in their community to promote crime prevention initiatives throughout the year. They are supporting this year's OACP province-wide campaign, which asks each of them to do the small things that add up to big crime prevention success.

Police community safety and crime prevention experts identified the following crimes or potential situations where victimization can occur, which keep our officers up at night (and days, too):

- Residential Break & Enters
- Impaired/Drugged Driving
- Cyber Crime/Identity Theft
- Fraud Online exchanges Theft from Vehicles/Theft of Vehicles
- Theft of Bicycles
- Theft from Garages, Lockers, Mail Boxes, Sheds, and Front Porches (Deliveries)
- Awareness of Your Surroundings to Prevent Assaults
- Pharmacy Thefts/Robberies
- Theft of Prescription Drugs

The 2017 OACP Crime Prevention Campaign is supported by the following community partners: Accident Support Services Inc., Canadian Security Association, Humber College - School of Social and Community Services, Interac, Hydro One, and the Ontario Lottery & Gaming Corporation.

DON'T BE A FRAUD VICTIM

Criminals involved in frauds are often called "fraud artists" because they are usually talented at manipulating the victim into believing they are dealing with a legitimate sales or service company, charity, government branch, banking institution, insurance company, or individual in need.

Shelburne police continue to receive reports of frauds of all types. Some of the frauds are local and in person, but many take place over the phone, through email, or social media, and these often stem from outside Canada.

Here are some tips to help prevent losing money and becoming a victim:

- Remember the saying "If it's too good to be true – it probably is"
- Question the validity of any requests for money or personal information from anyone you didn't initiate contact with yourself
- Take the time to verify a company, charity, or a certain person, product, or service is legitimate by seeking out a telephone number through Canada 411 or the yellow pages and calling it, rather than trusting all the information you are being provided
- If you aren't sure, just hang-up or say no and end the communication.
- Fraud artists often use common company or charity names to sound legitimate. Verify that the person you are talking to is an employee of that institution.
- Canada Revenue Agency will never notify you by email of money owed.
- Canada Revenue Agency will never send police to arrest you if you don't immedi-

- ately transfer money to pay taxes owed. Legitimate banks, credit card companies, and private investigators will never ask you to assist in an investigation and with-
- Never transfer or wire money to anyone you don't know personally, or you have verified 100% draw or transfer money.

- Never provide you social insurance number, credit card number, bank card number, or any other personal information over the phone, through email, or social media unless you have taken steps to 100% verify it is legitimate
- Contact police to verify any information prior to providing personal details or transferring money. "We would be happy to verify information for you. We prefer we do some checks and find out that it is legitimate, rather than end up taking a report from you as a victim of fraud", states Constable Neumann.
- Don't use the links provided in an email that appears to be from a known company or institution. Go to the official website and begin your communication from there.

If you believe you have been contacted by a fraud artist, or received email or regular mail that is a fraudulent attempt, you can report it to the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre at www.antifraudcentre-centreantifraude.ca/index-eng.htm.

If you have become a victim of a fraud (money

Fun and sun at Shelbrrr Fest 2017

It was the perfect day for an old fashioned horse and wagon ride at Shelbrrr fest Monday.

Second place prize winners Centennial Hylands Public School created a canoe snow castle representing Canada's early beginnings, keeping with the Canada 150 theme at Shelbrrr Fest on Monday, February 20.

Young sliders reported that the Tube Hill was running fast and smooth and the laughter on the hill was as infectious as the sunshine that flooded the snow filled fields of Fiddle Park.

The Kinettes began selling out of hotdogs mid-afternoon, a good indication of the size of the crowds, and the appreciation for the cooks in charge. In the kitchen, the volunteers from the Kinettes worked throughout the day to feed families with popular standards ...and new and delicious this year - deep fried pickles.

More culinary delicacies were supplied by Fiddleheads en route to the horse and wagon rides, just past the sky high ladder of the Shelburne Fire Truck. Good Dog Carting was popular with the little ones and Country 105 was on hand to record the fun.

The big winners of the Snow Castle Competition were the students of Glenbrook Elementary School with their balloon and flag covered Canada 150 snow cave taking first prize.

All the schools did a great job with their snow structures with second prize going to Centennial Hylands Public School for their canoe-shaped snow castle, representing the early beginnings of Canada, and Hyland Heights Public School taking third place.

Glenbrook Elementary, which won the contest in 2016 as well, will receive another cheque for $800 towards a Upper Grand District School Board-approved computer.

Centennial Hylands will receive $300 and Hyland Heights $200.

The prizes are donated by participating sponsors: Crewson Insurance, Shepherd Osyany & King law firm, Stutz Brown & Self law firm, Dufferin Mutual Insurance, and Timmerman, Haskell & Mills law firm.

Congratulations to Councillor Dan Sample and the Shelbrrr Fest Committee volunteers along with the Kin Clubs of Shelburne and the Shelburne Public Works Department for all their hard work in bringging another successful winter wonderland Family Day to Shelbrrr Fest and the community.

The LP Stage Production Kids and their Artistic Team brought music to the 3rd Annual Shelbrrr Fest with a large crowd gathering to hear them sing Broadway favourites, including songs from Oliver, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat, and their upcoming production of The

As a hockey player, Jackson Dupre has spent his entire career in the net.

After a stellar regular season, the Centre Dufferin District High School Royals Junior basketball team will head to the District 4 championships after dispatching the Erin District High School Raiders in their semi-final game.

The semi-final got underway in the gym at CDDHS on Thursday, February 16, with a 4 p.m. start.

The Royals managed to take an early lead in the first quarter but the Raiders kept pace with the game only a point apart for most of the quarter.

When the final buzzer sounded the Royals were ahead by ten to win the game 36-26 and secure their place in the final.

The CDDHS junior squad ended the regular season in first place in the District standings with a 7-1 record. Over the season they scored 381 points while allowing 271 against.

Their only loss was to the Westside Secondary School Thunder back on January 12, when the Thunder managed to squeeze out a two point win on home court.

Third seed Westside was knocked out of competition on Thursday taking a 46-31 loss to the second place Wellington Heights Secondary School in their semi-final.

Thursday's results set up a battle for the District 4 championship between Centre Dufferin and Wellington Heights.

That game was scheduled for Wednesday, February 22, in the gym at Centre Dufferin.

Results were not available at press time. The winner of the District championship will go on to the regional CWOSSA competition. CWOSSA has changed the rules this year.

Previously two teams in the District were eligible to compete, however this year only the championship team will be able to make the

"It was the sort of game were we didn't really bring our best," said Royals forward Henry McGowan after the win. "We have a really talented team, we fought hard. It was one of those grinding-out games. We continuously battled, from the first guy to the twelfth guy - we fought hard."

The win gives the squad one week to prepare for the final District championship game against the Westside Secondary School Thunder in Orangeville.

Westside ended the season in first place as an undefeated team and got a bye in the playoffs.

"Westside has a bunch of really talented guys – a lot of great athletes. For us we'll have to compete with them and keep the intensity up for the entire game. The big thing for us in this game is to keep up the intensity from start to finish. If we get down, instead of rolling over, we have to get back up and keep fighting," McGowan said of preparing for the championship.

Centre Dufferin and Westside met twice during the regular season with Westside coming on top in both games, but they were close, very competitive match-ups and the final could go either way.

The final championship game was slated to get underway in Orangeville at the Westside gym on Wednesday, February 22.

Results were not available at press time.

The Centre Dufferin District High School Royals ended the regular season with a tie and a loss for sixth place in the District 4/10 hockey standings.

The Royals played their final two games on home ice at the Centre Dufferin Recreation Complex.

The team hosted the St. James Lions on Tuesday, February 14, in a bid to move up in the standings with a couple of points.

After a scoreless first period, the Royals lit the scoreboard up early in the second period.

CDDHS went ahead with another second period marker to lead 2-1 going into the final frame. St. James tied it up in the third.

That was matched by a Lions goal.

A wild scramble in front of the net resulted in the Lions taking a one goal lead late in the game but the Royals responded with a powerplay goal late in the game that tied it up at three to force an overtime period.

Neither team could break the stalemate and they had to settle for a 3-3 tie.

"We got shots off around the net and made some good passing plays," said Royals goalie Jackson Dupre after the game. "It was a bit tiring in net with all the battles out front, but we got a tie and a point out of the game."

The Royals were back on the ice the following day to take on the Orangeville District Secondary School Bears.

Jesus chose a way of life that was misunderstood by many.

He sometimes scandalized the leaders of his faith community.

Religious people of his day questioned why he and his friends did more feasting than fasting; why he attended parties at the homes of people they would consider not worthy of their company; why he included women, tax collectors, and common labourers in his inner circle; and why he treated enemies — Samaritans — as beloved neighbours, sisters and brothers.

They did not understand this rabbi — a spiritual leader who preached love for the outsider, the ones on the margins of society, for the widows, orphans and foreigners. They had become so caught in the subordinate rules — the trappings of their faith — that they had forgotten God's message for them. Jesus reminded them that what God most wants is this: "So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets." (Matthew 7.12)

I wonder if we as a society have lost our way too and are in danger of forgetting God's deep message, the basis of Jesus' teaching.

We have transitioned into a period that some are calling the "post-truth" era, a time when "alternative facts" — formerly called "lies" — are an acceptable way to support one's preferred version of just about anything.

Last fall's United States election was one more large step into a world where reality has come unhinged from accurate facts, information, observations, research — all that we normally depend upon to understand what is true and dependable and worthy.

What would have been considered ridiculous or laughable, or even a sign of mental illness, now is allowed to hold great power in our world.

Messages that instill fear or express contempt license the open expression of prejudice against persons of a different race, religion, gender, sexual orientation or political identity.

There is general agreement that the violence inflicted during worship in the Quebec City mosque is one of many violent acts resulting from increasingly open expressions of xenophobia.

How do we regain our balance and our sanity? Perhaps we begin by committing to the exhausting often tenuous work of discerning what is real and true and kind in every situation. And, then we must find the courage to condemn prejudice and discrimination and violence.

What does our faith offer in the search for a better way?

Many have begun also to call this the post-Christian or post-religion era in our culture. I don't think it's an accident that so many of our strong social programs - universal education and healthcare, employment insurance, welfare, disability allowances, child protection laws, work place safety standards, old age pensions, a stable banking system, commitments to foreign aid came into being during a time when the socially acceptable place to be on Sunday morning was in some sort of church.

If you were Jewish, you went on Saturday; if Muslim, on Friday. In our places of worship we were exposed weekly to important ideas that shaped our understanding and our way of life:

- God is love; God loves diversity; all humanity is one family born of that great Love. We live in intimate relationship with our Creator and one another, with every living creature and our earthly home.
- We are called to practice kindness and compassion especially for all who need our kindness and compassion most. We are called to live the "Golden Rule" doing for others what we would have them do for us and not doing to others what we would not want them to do to us.
- We are called to notice injustice and do everything in our power to make justice a reality. This is not the justice of crime and punishment; but, rather the justice of fair distribution of resources. Conflict begins where there is inequity and unfairness. We are called to share all resources equitably and sustainably.

These messages are the gift and blessing our religious traditions continue to offer today. They show us how to regain our balance and our sanity. Our world is in great need right now of exactly this blessing. The world is hungry for this blessing. Together we can bless the world by our efforts to live into the way Jesus taught.

There was a need for speed at this year's Radar Run

BY MICHELLE JANZEN

With the fantastic weather this past weekend, people from near and far came and unloaded their sleds at the Dufferin Drift Busters 4th Annual Radar Run to see just how fast they could go.

With that in mind, most snowmobiles have a speedometer; however they may not be accurate and the spinning track may give a false reading of the actual speed.

Maybe you feel you can't spare a glance at your clocks while screaming down the trail, throttle pegged.

After each entrant's run against the radar gun, some saw other sleds in their class run a faster speed and, being fierce competitors, ran another run in order to regain former glory.

In the sunshine on Saturday, it went on like that until some realized they just couldn't go any faster. Some ran several times, even though there were no other competitors in their class, just to see if they could possibly eke out a couple more km/hr, and it got really interesting when a smaller cc sled would go faster than a bigger cc sled.

At the end of this fun-filled sunny day the results were as follows: In the Under 16 yrs category in first place was Joe Scoles with a speed of 70km/hr. Second place went to Jake Jorgenson with a speed of 61 km/hr with third place going to JJ Stevens with a speed of  $16 \, \text{km/hr}$ .

In the Vintage category, the sleds ranged in age from 1967 to 1973 with first place in 300 Under going to Olivia VanBeek with a speed of 22km/hr. The 399 Under went to Jay Watts going 36km/hr. The Open class went to Mitchell Smedley, who managed to hit 92 km/hr.

The Classic category had sleds ranging from 1974 to 1985. In the 300 Under, first place went to Foster Lge whose speed hit 49 km/hr, followed by Ethan VanBeek in second going 38 km/hr and in third was Jake Gallagher who was not far behind hitting a speed of 30 km/hr.

The Open category saw Jacob Nuhn in first place with an amazing speed of 113 km/hr. Second went to Rich Lee with a speed of 76 Km/hr and in third, hitting 70 km/hr, was Glen VanBeek.

While the Late Model 2 Stroke saw Mile Kiles going 52 km/hr taking first in the 400 Under and second going to Ethan VanBeek. The 500 Under saw Aaron Dcruz taking first with a speed of 67km/hr and Martin Teeter taking second hitting 63 km/hr. In the 600 Under, first went to Sheldon Homes who saw a speed of 82 km/hr, while tied for second was Dudley Crowe and Kevin Holmes who both hit 80 Km/hr.

Taking first in the 700 Under was Jarod Early with a peed of 91.7 km/hr, second was Albert Melchoir with a speed of 84.9 km/hr while Don Crowe took third with a speed of 83.7 km/hr. The 800 Under saw first place going to Bill Kenney hitting 96 km/hr with second going to Duane Foulger who wasn't far behind at 91.6 km/hr, and in third was Lyn Chambers hitting 88.3 km/hr.

In the 900 Under, Travis Cuthbert hit 94.4 km/hr taking first, while in the 1000 Under there was a tie for first between Ron Sloan and Nathan Prince who both hit 94.4 km/hr, with second going to Andre Cupington who's speed was 93.7 km/hr.

In the late model 4 stroke 1000 Under, Kevin took first with a speed of 98 km/hr while second went to Michael Clowes who's speed was 95.3 km/hr and third was taken by Marylynn Rea who went 87.4 km/hr. The 1000 and Over, first went to Marlene Harbin hitting a speed of 96.7 km/hr, with second going to Derek Laws who hit 96.4 km/hr, while third went to Cody Harbin whose speed was

The Open Category saw a top speed of 120 km/hr and first place going to Codey Harbin, second place went to Tino Snurdento who went 117 km/hr while third was taken by Myles Coe whose speed was 113 km/hr.

In the Out Law Category Cody Harbin hit an incredible speed of 122 km/hr taking first place.

It was nice to see both new and vintage machines hitting the snow all in hopes of hitting the top speed in their

With the warmup room, food booth, and four radar lanes for those who wanted to participate, and lots of room to display those machines, a great day was had by all that attended.

The Drift Busters tell the Shelburne Free Press that the money raised from this event goes directly into making their trail system better. They say they are looking forward to seeing you all again next year!
