

Shelburne Library News: E-Resources Go Live!

By Rose Dotten

Mark your calendars for this year's exciting March Break events at your Library!

All events are at 2 p.m.:

Dan the Music Man: Tuesday, March 15 @ Grace Tipling Hall

Zoo to You: Wednesday, March 16 @ Shelburne Public Library

Peter Pan- Duffle Bag Theatre: Thursday, March 17, @ Grace Tipling Hall

Tickets are $3 each or all three for $8 ? a real bargain for these quality March break events for our community.

E-RESOURCES

Finally, our FREEGAL site will be live by the weekend!

Freegal, the music site which has thousands of songs (current, classical, or whatever you enjoy) will now be available to download or stream on your computer. This is free from our website for our patrons. Don't forget to explore the 55 full-text magazines you can read from our website through FLIPSTER. More and more of our patrons are discovering them. You no longer need to spend money on subscriptions, just read the current magazine online.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

Story time continues on Fridays at 10.30 for children 2 yrs. and up.

There is a different theme each week, with songs, finger plays and a story. Please join us.

The Paws to Read program is on Tuesdays from 3.45 to 4.45 p.m. Your child can come and read for fifteen minutes to Mac the poodle. However, you must sign up ahead of time as the time slots are filled in quite quickly.

Children are also enjoying the Super Readers Club on Tuesdays from 3.30 to 4.30 p.m. There is a different theme each week and a different choice of books to read, plus activities to participate in.

We are also looking at having a 30 minute program of songs, nursery rhymes, and music for newborns up to two years old, once a week in the morning.

For more information on these programs please call the Library at 519-925-2168

TEEN SCENE

Last week, our teens played a White Pine inspired game of Guess Who? and, when that was over, we had another round of Mind readers. This game requires teens to pair up, and try and guess the same answers in a variety of subject areas! It's more challenging than you would think, but some of our teens are really in tune with each other!

This week, teens will be making a giant puzzle!

They will be decorating big puzzle pieces to represent the White Pine books they have been reading. Some of the books are getting rave reviews, while others are not as popular.

There are lots of prizes to be won, and still plenty of time to sign up! Just drop by the library Thursday night between 6 to 7 p.m.

NEW BOOKS

Fiction:

The Forgotten Soldier by Brad Taylor

Oblivion by Arnaldur Indridason

The Piano Maker by Kurt Palka

This Is Your Life, Harriet Chance! by Jonathan Evison

Warriors of the Storm by Bernard Cornwell

The Marble Collectors by Cecelia Ahern

After She's Gone by Lisa Jackson

Severed Souls by Terry Goodkind

Non-fiction:

Mountain City Girls: The McGarrigle Family Album by Anna & Jane McGarrigle

That lonely section of Hell by Lori Shenher

Unstoppable by Bill Nye

Resilience and Triumph: Immigrant Women Tell Their Stories

Raising Emotionally Healthy Boys by Michael Reist

White Eskimo by Stephen R. Bown

No Fixed Address by Jon Evans

That's Why I'm a Journalist by Mark Bulgutch

Measure Yourself Against the Earth by Mark Kingwell

More Than Honey by Markus Imhoof

Strength of Conviction by Tom Mulcair

Style by Emily Henderson

The Ultimate Winter Survival Handbook by Tim Macwelch & the Editors of Outdoor Life

Thinner in 30 by Jenna Wolfe