From the Orangeville Sun: Mr. Torrance has recently removed his Cabinet Shop to more commodious premises on Broadway. He is pushing business with zeal and energy and continues to furnish a large section of country with first-class furniture of every description. His prices are low, and we bespeak for him a still wider patronage among our readers.

South Simcoe Nomination ? Geo. Lount, Esq., Registrar for Simcoe, has received the writ for this constituency. The nomination of candidates takes place at Bond Head on Friday the 12th inst. And if a poll be demanded, the polling will come off on the Friday and Saturday following. Mr. Ferguson's return by acclamation is anticipated.

North Wellington ? The nomination for this riding took place at Fergus on Tuesday. Dr. Clarke and Dr. Parker were proposed and the show of hands was declared to be in favour of the latter. This however is no indication of the result of the election; for apart from Fergus being Dr. Parker's stronghold, the rumoured retirement of Dr. Clarke from the contest prevented his friends from attending in force. A poll was demanded and the 17th and 18th instant appointed as the days of election. Dr. Clarke has now entered upon his canvass with vigor and though he has only a few days to go over the riding, his prospects of success are most cheering.

Great Conservative Victory ? The elections in Montreal closed on Tuesday evening and resulted in the return of all the Opposition candidates. Mr. McGee, who is now opposed to the Ministry, has a majority of 750 over Mr. Young; Mr. Cartier 676 over Mr. Dorion, and Mr. Rose 88 over Mr. Holton. The rejection of the leader of the Lower Canada section of the Cabinet and of the Finance Minister by the chief city of the Province is humiliating to the Ministry and will produce a very sensible effect on the elections yet to come off. The Conservative Party never had so fine a chance to have things their own way as at present and we hope they will improve the opportunity.

The people of Phillipsburg (Maine) have voted to pay every man who may be drafted under the conscription act the sum of $300 to enable him to procure an exemption. A vigorous prosecution of the war does not appear to be a part of the creed of these people.

??bout one o'clock last Saturday morning, Fleming's Shingle Mill, Elba, was found to be in flames and was wholly consumed. The cause of the fire is not known. ??ays the Orangeville Sun: It is rumoured around these diggings that the two whiskey spotters that paid Orangeville such an hilarious visit a couple of weeks ago, have made a killing, and we understand that a number of summonses will be issued in a day or so against several citizens for selling wet goods in a dry town. The spotters got one young man good and hard. They got him to get them a bottle of booze. He did it to oblige them, but the spotters said he bought it for $1.25 and sold it to them for $2, clearing 75 cents on the deal. Anyway, he pleaded guilty, and was taxed $100, so he was out just $99.25 on the transaction. It was a clear case of being roped in, but the incident should be a warning to those who are requested to do a favour for strangers.

??ays the Orangeville Post: The Dufferin Agricultural Society is to be congratulated on its present position and enterprise. The society is free from debt and a fine new grandstand has just been completed at a cost of $1,000 capable of seating 600. The contractor was Mr. John Richardson, who has completed the work in a high creditable manner. The half mile track is one of the best outside of the large centres and at present some 20 speedy horses are being trained on the oval. Some 75 rods of wire fencing has been erected and the grounds are in fine shape.

??ilbert Stuckey has a cage of young red foxes that he caught at W. Willmott's farm last week. On Saturday, Arthur Taylor sold nine others to some other Orangeville sports who were in Grand Valley. Just whether they intend going into the fox business, as is done in Prince Edward Island, or these animals are the nucleus of a zoo, is not stated. At any rate, Willmott's cage is a centre of attraction for young boys.

??ugh Falconer, JP, of Shelburne, and Stewart Tate, JP, Grand Valley, were in Orangeville Tuesday trying liquor charges against Messrs. Morrison (Sr. & Jr.), and Bennett, hotel keepers. The charge against Morrison Jr. was deemed proven and a fine of $125 and costs, or three months in jail imposed, while the charge against Morrison Sr. was withdrawn. There were two charges against Bennett. On one he was fined $125 and costs, and the other charge with withdrawn.

Dufferin County's Community Services has a high profile in terms of its new and prominent location on Broadway and the fact that it included 10 programs under one roof.
