

LETTER: Reader thanks police for show of respect

I'm writing this letter to the Editor on a show of respect.

My father, Carman Doney, recently passed away, and my family would like to first thank all the people who stopped their cars while he was on his last journey. That is a show of respect, but the thing that brought tears to our eyes was the respect from the new officer of the Shelburne Police Department. He led us out to the cemetery, got out of his car and saluted my dad and whole possession.

You just don't see that for the ordinary person.
