Annual haunted house helps food bank

BY ALEX SHER

Not even the extremely cold and rainy weather could deter Shane Fendley and Jeremy Little from setting up their annual haunted house at 327 Centre Street.

Asking for food donations upon entering the haunted house proved to be a great idea yet again as the event raised 80 pounds of food and $40 in cash for the Shepherd's Cupboard, Shelburne's local food bank.

For over 20 years the Little family have been frightening neighborhood kids and adults alike with their exceptionally frightening haunted house. This year, nine kids and adults volunteered to make the evening the success it was. While some kids worked off their volunteer hours for school, other people including a 'Good Witch' volunteered, making certain the little ones were not too afraid while they navigated through the darkness, shouting voices, grabbing corn husks scarecrow of the Haunted House.

"If I had it my way, I'd run a haunted house all year round," said Little.

This Halloween approximately 300 kids came through the haunted house that took well over eight hours to set up and as the following pictures reveal, the Haunted House is frightening in the light of day! For more information, contact Jeremy Little at jrlittle1979@gmail.com

New Council takes on the next term: 2014 – 2018

BY MARNI WALSH

On October 27th the voters of Shelburne exercised their democratic privilege and delivered a new Council to the next term of municipal office. The list of newly elected Council members includes Mayor Ken Bennington, Deputy Mayor Geoff Dunlop (acclaimed), Councillor Wade Mills, Councillor Walter Benotto, Councillor Tom Egan, Councillor Randy Chambers, and Councillor Dan Sample. They will officially take office December 1st, 2014.

Only 36 per cent of Shelburne voters cast their ballot for a total of 1428 votes of the 4016 eligible. In recognition of the honour they have received from the voters to serve the Town of Shelburne, the newly elected members shared the following written statements of acceptance:

Ken Bennington elected as Mayor received 1128 votes:

“Thanks to all Shelburne residents for your ongoing support throughout this election process. I look forward to working with your new Council team that you, the residents, have selected. The team you have chosen has both elements of experience, and the enthusiasm of newly elected councillors.

Throughout this campaign, I have knocked on hundreds of doors, and met with countless people. I enjoyed those conversations regarding the Town, and our Council. I receive many positive comments and also some indicators where we may have stumbled in the past. I will reflect on those conversations in the immediate future as we move forward into the new Council term.”

“Please join me in thanking both Ed Crewson, and AJ Cavey, for their dedication and hard work over many, many years, and multiple projects, for the Town of Shelburne. It was my pleasure to have served with, and learned from, each of them. I wish them all the best as they turn the page into new chapters.”

Geoff Dunlop acclaimed Deputy Mayor: “Congratulations to the successful candidates and to all of the candidates who, not only care deeply about our town, but had the courage to put their name on the ballot for Monday’s municipal election. I am eager to work with the members of council in the coming term and appreciative of the ongoing support of the residents of Shelburne.”

Wade Mills elected as Councillor received 937 votes:

“I am honoured and humbled to have received the overwhelming confidence of the people of Shelburne in this week’s election. For those who supported my campaign, I offer my deepest gratitude. For those whose support I have not yet earned, I pledge to prove myself through actions. In order to move Shelburne forward towards a bright and vibrant future, I will need your help, your ideas, and your energy. I look forward to bringing some fresh thinking to Council and I am excited to get to work on your behalf.”

Dan Sample elected as Councillor received 815 votes:

“This has been an exciting time for my family and me during this campaign. I would like to take a moment to thank everyone that assisted during the campaign, my family for the support and dedication, friends that kept me going, all the voters that voted. This is our town, we need to work together to get everything accomplished; I am your voice “We Are in This Together.” Nikki Williams and her two boys Alex and Jordan, have been there every minute of the way: attending Town Council meetings, putting out signs, setting up fund raisers and all out support. Thanks to all who supported my campaign, I look forward to working with everyone in the future. Thanks everyone!!!!”

Randy Chamber elected as Councillor received 810 votes:

“I would humbly like to thank you, the citizens of the Town of Shelburne, for the continued support that you have provided me, since first being elected in 1991. Rest assured that I will continue to act on your behalf, and in the best interests of the Town of Shelburne, in fulfilling the trust that you have placed in me once again this year.”

Walter Benotto elected as Councillor received 752 votes:

“I want to thank all who have supported me in this election. I will work hard for all the citizens of Shelburne to make it the “Best small town in Ontario”.

Tom Egan elected as Councillor received 735 votes:

“Sincere thanks to the voters of Shelburne for your support and confidence in re-electing me to Shelburne Council. I will continue to work hard to represent you at Council and to make the right decisions. Thank You”

The Free Press congratulates all the candidates on a race well run and extends best wishes to the newly elected members of the Shelburne Town Council as they begin their political adventure into the next term.

Remembering Home Children who returned for the fight

BY MARNI WALSH

“They arrived in Canada with only their name. No families, no familiarity, nothing, not even hope. Alone, scared and unsure of what was to come.”

– Nanci Malek DCMA

Between 1863 and 1939 over 100,000 children were sent to Canada from the British Isles during the child emigration movement. Orphaned and destitute children, thought to stand a better chance in Canada, were sent to Canadian families, many of whom welcomed them, not as family, but as a source of cheap labour.

Marketing and Promotions Coordinator for the Dufferin County Museum & Archives (DCMA) Nanci Malek says staff is working through “DuffStuff”, the museum’s online information portal to identify British home children who lived in Dufferin County and returned to fight overseas. So far, they have identified over 100, the vast majority of whom fought in WWI and WWII. Many did not return to Dufferin, but it is DCMA’s aim, says Malek, “to honour them by continuing to tell their stories.” It is her hope that they will not be forgotten on November 11th at local Remembrance Day services.

There is evidence to suggest that from the 1900’s on, most of these children, some only toddlers came from families with strong bonds that had simply fallen on hard times and had every hope and intention of retrieving their children from mission homes. English institutions such as Barnardo’s, created with philanthropic intentions by Doctor John Barnardo in the later part of the 1800’s, were “rescue” homes for destitute children, many orphaned by the East End London cholera outbreak.

In the decades that followed, policies developed in various British child institutions to deliberately separate siblings and discourage parental contact – even to the point of falsely telling children their parents were dead. Some children sent overseas, spent the rest of their lives unsuccessfully searching for their families.

Barnardo homes were set up in Ontario with Peterborough as the main distribution centre for Barnardo girls from 1889 to 1922. Before long, “receiving homes” were setup across the country. Seen as the only way to alleviate the unending cycle of poverty in Victorian England, little thought was given, by institutions or the Canadian government, to the subsequent care and safety of the children once they left England’s shore.

Many children found a better life, but others were placed in appalling situations with little or no supervision, vulnerable to near slavery and abuse. New Canadians struggling to build home and country needed cheap labour and many would never have seen success without immigration schemes such as the home children. The Canadian government has never apologized for its role in the practice despite apologies from the U.K. and Australia in 2009.

The names of home children can be found on ship passenger lists, but details of early lists contain little more than their name and destination. Many of these children, so ill served by their home and country, still returned to served with the Canadian and British forces during both World Wars.

From the DCMA archives:

“Isaac James Frances Ballin Thomas was born on May 26, 1900 in Holborn, London, the son of Frank James Ballin Thomas and Elizabeth. He immigrated to Canada onboard the SS Tunisian, arriving on August 5, 1910. He was employed by John Faulkner. His father was a collector for Singer Sewing Machines. Isaac’s mother died of consumption in 1903 and the father was reputed to have been committed to a mental asylum. That necessitated Isaac entering Barnardo’s in 1908. Isaac joined the Canadian army in 1916, despite being under age. At some point, the army discovered that he was under age and he was not permitted to fight in the war. At the time of his application, Isaac stated he was living at Glin Cross, Ontario and working as a farm hand. He is said to have married and returned to England in the 1930s.”

“I think the most significant part of this story,” says Malek, “is that these youth, once of age (some not), were called to defend their new country, Canada. They went to war and fought for our freedom and when their duty was done, even though they could have gone back to their homeland, they came back to Canada to restart their lives, right here in Dufferin County.”

Council agenda sets a time record, honours community

Sandy Bell owner of Foodland accepted a Community Excellence Award from Mayor Crewson November 3rd. The award was recommended by Ardith Dunlop for the generous support of Bell and his staff to the "Shepherd's Cupboard" food bank in Shelburne. Foodland makes food drive bags available to customers at holiday time; provides left over bake goods for Thursday's food bank; gives the Shepherd's Cupboard volunteers a 'heads up' on meat sales that can be bought for the bank in bulk; and conducted a barbeque fundraiser for the food bank.

BY MARNI WALSH

A 7:40 p.m. finish for Council on November 3rd made, for what the Mayor believed to be, "the shortest meeting on record."

Council, who frequently sit in sessions for two to three hours and more, joked that after 17 years the Mayor had "finally got it right."

Another citizen was honoured for their community service at Council Monday night. Sandy Bell owner of Foodland accepted a Community Excellence Award from Mayor Crewson. as Council and gallery residents looked on.

The award was recommended by Ardith Dunlop for the generous support of Bell and his staff to the "Shepherd's Cupboard" food bank in Shelburne. Dunlop who has led the work at the food bank for many years, says "Foodland makes food drive bags available to customers at holiday time; provides left over bake goods for Thursday's food bank; gives the Shepherd's Cupboard volunteers a 'heads up' on meat sales that can be bought for the bank in bulk; and also conducted a barbeque fundraiser."

Ed and Donna Walsh returned to Council following up on their request to gain street access in Shelburne for Utility Task Vehicles (UTV's) – small, off-road recreational vehicles.

Mr. Walsh, who needs a wheel chair for mobility, would like to be able to drive his UTV through the streets to enjoy local trails; there is a question as to the legality of this as ATV's, all-terrain vehicles, similar to UTV's, are currently prohibited. Discussion ensued around a by-law to allow UTV's for persons with handicaps and Mayor Crewson suggest a legal opinion be sought on the issue.

Mr. Walsh also expressed concern about the pedestrian cross-walk call button at Main Street and Greenwood. He explained that it is inaccessible to wheelchairs during the winter months due to snow build up.

Director of Public Works Scott Wheeldon promised to look into the site to see what could be done.

A letter from Shelburne Fire Department regarding the Community Ice Pad at KTH noted insurance concerns with using a fire truck to flood the ice surface. In lieu of the truck, the department suggested a winterized tap and supported the effort with up to $500 from their 2014 budget for its installation under their supervision.

Documents from the Township of Mono outlined Official Plan Amendments for comment by Shelburne Council. The amendments involved, in part, the re-designation of Prime Agricultural Areas, as well as Extraction in Prime Agricultural Areas.

The Amendments sought to further protect prime agricultural areas for long-term agricultural use and address the preservation, protection, improvement and restoration of ground and surface water as well as natural heritage features.

This is Ed Crewson's last month as Mayor of Shelburne; he will be stepping aside for Ken Bennington who was elected to serve as Mayor in the next term of Council and is set to take the reins December 1st.

Finding Your Way™ seminar open to Shelburne residents

Dear editor:

Did you know that 3 out of 5 people with dementia will go missing at some point? If not found within 24 hours, half of them will have a serious injury or die. That's why the Alzheimer Society of Dufferin County, in partnership with the Alzheimer Society of Ontario and Ontario Seniors' Secretariat is promoting the groundbreaking Finding Your Way™ program, a multicultural safety awareness initiative for people living with dementia who go missing or become lost. Please visit www.findingyourwayontario.ca to learn more.

One in ten Ontarians over 65 has dementia.

Dementia doesn't discriminate, affecting men and women of all races, religions and socio-economic backgrounds. There is little awareness of missing incidents in our communities and many people do not know where to seek help. Available in English, French, Cantonese, Italian, Mandarin, Portuguese, Punjabi and Spanish, Finding Your Way™ now helps prevent people living with dementia from "wandering" and going missing, and helps care partners and other family members prepare for such incidents, if they occur.

We would like to hear from you on how our Alzheimer Society can play a partnership role in improving the lives of persons living with dementia and their care partners. We will look at the Local

- Community Picture to determine:
- How is this a problem (person living with dementia going missing)?
  - What local efforts are underway to help?
  - How are police and emergency services involved?

- Who is at the greatest risk?
- We will also determine a Local Action Plan that will help solidify:
- What further action is needed?
- How do we get started? Who can help?

You are invited to join our community meeting on Friday, November 28, 2014 (10 a.m. to 3 p.m.)

Please register for this free community meeting – lunch is provided. We can assist with travel expenses as well. Go to: <https://www.eventbrite.ca/e/finding-your-waycommunity-meeting-alzheimer-society-dufferin-county-tickets-13828590687> or call 647 637-3016 to register.

Imposing deliberate destitution on refugees is wrong

Dear editor:

Canadians used to be known around the world for our compassion and generosity, but changes hidden in the Conservative government's latest omnibus budget bill threaten those values.

Every year Canada welcomes refugees who are fleeing violence and persecution in troubled parts of the world to begin their lives anew in our country. Before they are technically accepted as refugees, these refugee claimants are not guaranteed a work permit, and rely on social assistance to survive.

This legislation will allow social assistance to be taken away from this extremely vulnerable group at their time of greatest need. It will deny assistance to refugees even though they have no other means to put food on the table.

That is cruel and goes directly against Canadian values.

The government argues it is simply respecting provincial jurisdiction, but I have not heard of a single province ever trying to get out of its responsibility to make social assistance payments to refugee claimants. The vast majority of claimants go on to become permanent residents; deliberately imposing destitution is no way to help them start their life in Canada.

No wonder the Conservatives buried these changes in a bill that's almost 500 pages long.

These changes come after the Federal Court struck down the Conservatives' policy of denying refugee claimants health benefits, ruling that it was "cruel and unusual" treatment that puts lives at risk and "outrages Canadian standards of decency". Shockingly, the government is appealing that ruling.

It is appalling that the Conservative government is playing politics of fear with the very lives of those who come to Canada with nothing but hopes and dreams. They must back-off their anti-refugee attacks and start upholding Canadian values.

Wallace makes headway with environmental hearing

BY MARNI WALSH

In response to pleas for help from Melancthon residents over health risks posed by Dufferin Wind Power Inc.'s (DWPI) construction process for transmission poles, Green Party candidate in the Provincial election, Karren Wallace determined that the amendments to DWPI's

Renewable Energy Approval (REA) deemed "insignificant" to the environment by the Environmental Board Review, could be potentially harmful. She presented a formal request to the Environmental Review Tribunal for a hearing regarding the Amendment to REA No. 5460-98BPH8 held by Dufferin Wind Power Inc. and in less than two weeks received approval for the hearing; the first to make political headway for citizens frustrated by the system.

The DWPI transmission poles, located along side the County owned rail corridor, will carry the power from 49 new turbines in Melancthon to the transformer station near Hwy 9 and the 3rd Line of Amaranth. Construction started in the spring of this year and Wallace heard from friends and neighbours "that DWP was violating their site plan agreements." Wallace says she has been "helping concerned citizens for some time to manoeuvre through government to find the people and information to assist them." About a month ago she and Ontario Green Party leader Mike Schreiner toured the area with an involved citizen, to look at the issue of possible health risks posed by DWPI transmission pole holes, many surrounded by water, some constructed in wetlands, and others near manure piles. Residents were questioning whether this might be "Walkerton" waiting to happen.

Standing on the rail bed, barely outside the tiny Hamlet of Corbetton, November 1st, Corbetton resident, and soon to be Mayor of Melancthon, Darren White expressed concern to the Green Party candidate at every pole in site. "The Walkerton tragedy happened as a result of a bad seal on ONE well during a sustained rainstorm that produced large quantities of rainfall runoff in one farm field," said White. "In this project there are hundreds of potential conduits for contamination directly to the underlying aquifer."

White went on to say, "Many of these are in farmer's fields which are used regularly for both crops and animal grazing. There are also poles in potential brownfield areas (an area of possible contamination from previous use - in this case the rail bed.) The remedial sealing program (ordered by the MOECC for 300 poles in August) was an afterthought and needs to be monitored closely. As a citizen, and as the next mayor, my concerns are to ensure there is no contamination of ground water or local wells and to ensure MOECC has the staff, the resources, and the budget to monitor the transmission line construction on a continuing on-going basis."

Excerpts from Wallace's letter of request for a hearing:

"...the Ministry of Environment and Climate Change (MOECC) has ordered Dufferin Wind Power (DWP) to seal the foundations of more than 300 utility poles to guard against possible groundwater contamination in Melancthon and Amaranth. This is not a minor request, nor is this a minor threat to the drinking water for Ontarians. In fact an MOECC employee is quoted as saying: "There is a small but nonetheless actual potential for surface water to travel to and possibly into the fractured limestone bedrock." Tomlinson wrote. "That scenario is certainly concerning." (Source: Orangeville Banner, August 18, 2014

"...The entire length of the poles has been coated in pentachlorophenol (penta), wood preservative. The very fact alone that MOECC oversight did not in fact foresee the problem with the transmission poles should be a red flag for a full hearing.

"...Questions that need to be answered at the hearing are:

Why did the MOECC not respond to local residents concerns when the issue was first raised many, many months ago? What type of health risks are posed to more than one million Ontarians drinking water as a result of the pentachlorophenol (penta), wood preservative potentially leaking into the aquifer? What type of on-going monitoring will occur and at who's expense?

Wallace awaits confirmation that DWPI will be required to assume all costs at the Amendment to REA hearing. It is her hope that "the very flawed process throughout this entire project will be exposed and there will be transparency around MOECC's role."

Elected Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones and PC Interim Leader Jim Wilson toured the turbines October 17th. Both Progressive Conservatives, they spoke of re-introducing a previous private member's bill in provincial parliament to give the municipalities some power when dealing with projects covered under the GEA.

Wallace, an expert in municipal policy, said of the MPP's efforts, "Introducing a private members bill with a majority government is an exercise in futility and will do nothing to raise awareness about this issue or protect one million Ontarian's source water."

Assault charge

During the very early hours of Wednesday October 29th a Shelburne woman attended the Shelburne Police station to report concerns in a domestic relationship.

An investigation was initiated and that resulted in a 21 year old Shelburne man being arrested and charged with assault in a domestic setting. The male was held for a bail hearing the next morning at the Orangeville Court House.

The name of the accused is being withheld for the benefit of the victim.

Three people charged with drug possession

The Shelburne Police have been busy taking illegal drugs off the street over the past week.

First, on Wednesday October 29th Shelburne Police officers were patrolling near Centre Dufferin District High School when they intercepted a student heading to the school with marijuana in his possession. The high school student was arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance under the Controlled Drug and Substance Act, and released on an appearance notice with a court date in November. Police seized a quantity of marijuana and related paraphernalia.

On Halloween night while Shelburne officers were conducting a R.I.D.E. program. A vehicle that entered the program quickly caught the officer's attention resulting in an investigation being launched. As a result of the road side investigation two occupants of the car were arrested and a quantity of illegal drugs were seized. The two adult males: Jonathon Collier of Clinton and Bruce Patterson of Etobicoke were each charged with possession of a controlled substance. They were released on appearance notices with court dates in early December.

Honouring our past.

Remembrance Day 2014

BY DAVID TILSON, MP

Remembrance Day is quickly approaching and it is of utmost importance for each of us to honour the countless contributions our veterans have made to peace and stability around the world, as well as to remember those who made the ultimate sacrifice. This Remembrance Day also marks several considerable military milestones for all Canadians to pause and reflect on – the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the First World War; the 75th anniversary of Canada's engagement in the Second World War; and the 70th anniversary of D-Day and the Battle of Normandy.

I'm very honoured to be laying a wreath on behalf of the Government of Canada at the Menin Gate Memorial to the Missing in Ypres, Belgium on November 11th, while I'm there leading an all-party parliamentary delegation to the European Parliament in my role as President of the Canada-Europe Parliamentary Association.

The delegation will also be travelling to Riga, Latvia, as the Latvian Government will hold the next presidency of the Council of the European Union.

Canadian soldiers have a long history of standing up for democracy and freedom around the world. In 1914, Canada was automatically at war when Britain declared war on Germany. Canada, with a relatively small regular army of 3,110 men at the time, quickly recruited thousands of young men from coast to coast and within a few weeks, the army grew to over 32,000 men.

The young Canadian soldiers endured trench warfare, poison gas, heavy artillery, barbed wire, machine gunfire, and horrific conditions, but despite impossible odds, they fought valiantly.

Canada, who entered the war as a nation of only eight million people, made an impressive contribution to the war effort which was key to the success of the Triple Entente. However, this success came at a heavy price - a total of 619,636 men and women served in the Canadian forces in the First World War, and of these, 66,655 gave their lives and another 172,950 were wounded. Nearly one out of every ten Canadians who fought in the war did not return home.

It was 75 years ago that Canada entered into the Second World War. It was a war that lasted six very long years and more than one million Canadians and Newfoundlanders served their country. More than 45,000 made the ultimate sacrifice and another 55,000 were wounded.

This Remembrance Day also marks the 70th anniversary of the June 06, 1944 D-Day landings where Canadian troops were integral to the success of these operations by progressing further than any of their allies that day. However, their successes came at a significant cost with 340 Canadians sacrificing their lives, 574 wounded, and 47 taken as prisoner.

Canadians continued to play an important role in the Normandy campaign and the struggle to liberate France. In all, Canadians suffered the most casualties of any division in the British Army Group during the Battle of Normandy with more than 5,000 making the ultimate sacrifice. The brave efforts of these outstanding young soldiers changed the course of the Second World War and ultimately helped liberate Europe from Nazi control.

We are forever in debt to our veterans and those who made the ultimate sacrifice in the First and Second World Wars, as well as those who have proudly served Canada in other conflicts and in peacekeeping missions.

On Remembrance Day, we say "thank you" to these brave men and women and demonstrate this appreciation for their outstanding service to Canada by wearing poppies and taking part in Remembrance ceremonies. When we participate in these acts of remembrance, we're ensuring their legacy lives on from generation to generation.

We were young men and women when we went off to war. We left our families behind but soon new ones were formed. There were times when we shared the sweetness of victory and other times succumbed to defeat.

Some of us came home, while others were sadly left behind. Years passed but lasting friendships prevailed.

Reunions were held to remember those who once walked tall beside us and proudly served our country.

For those of us remaining our memories are all but bitter-sweet.

In tribute to our fallen brethren, we speak of happier times. We shall never, in all our remaining years, forget those we left behind or those who carry on.

For no matter how tragic the war or the scars we carry with us, our freedom and that of our nation, made our sacrifice, one we could endure.

~ NWM Oct 2014

A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL

Remembrance Day. A day that should be important in the life of every Canadian. A day to remind ourselves of those who sacrificed so much in times of war. As Canadians, we should never forget the acts of heroism and bravery, and those who never made it home to be with their loved ones, or receive the praise and thanks of their fellow countrymen. We proudly salute all of you. While observing the two minutes of silence on November 11th, let us all think about how fortunate we are to enjoy the peace and freedom that we so often take for granted.

Royal senior girls end season in semi-finals

BY BRIAN LOCKHART

It was a tightly played game between two evenly matched squads, but when the final buzzer sounded, the Centre Dufferin District High School Royals senior girls basketball team had to settle for a loss to Norwell District Secondary School in the Division 4 semi-final playoff round.

The Royals ended the regular season with a 5-3 record and a second place in the standings – one ahead of the third place Norwell team who claimed a 4-4 record for the year.

The game got underway on Wednesday, October 29, at CDDHS's home court. At the half the Royals were trailing by a single point when Norwell took a 16-15 lead.

The Royals battled hard in the second half but lagged in the third quarter after missing some hoops and Norwell started pulling ahead.

Late in the fourth quarter, the CDDHS squad called a time-out to re-group and put together a strategy to get back into the game, but time ran out before they could even it up.

"We were kind of on the low at the first part of the season, but we really came together as a team," said Royals captain Micaela Pflance. "We started working together and I think that really improved our game."

The Royals were clearly disappointed at the loss but ended the season on a high note by playing full-out up until the end.

"We were talking, trying to keep a positive mind," Micaela said of the final game. "We definitely thought we were going to move on but things happen, shots don't go in."

Despite the loss, coach Brad McGitchie, praised the team's skill and tenacity through the season.

"We had a good team this year and did well in the regular season," He said. "We beat them (Nowell) all year – twice in the regular season. We had good leadership on the team and a good group of girls who have been playing together – now, for their fourth year. We would normally dominate a team like that. We normally would score 25 points down low on them, but we just couldn't get the ball in there today."

The pressure of being behind in the second half changed the game plan for the Royals.

"We got away from our game," McGitchie said. "Our game is in tight underneath the basket - we were trying to shoot from father out then we're used to."

The Norwell team will now go on to meet Westside Secondary School in Orangeville for the district final.

Local golfer competes for big bucks

Shelburne golfer, David Markle, stars in new reality television show on the Golf Channel

BY BRIAN LOCKHART

Local golfer David Markle is well known for his abilities on the fairway and his fundraising efforts for the Canadian Diabetes Association.

Now you can also call him a television star. Markle is currently on Big Break Myrtle Beach - a reality competition series produced by the Golf Channel in partnership with Myrtle Beach Golf Holiday and South Carolina Tourism and filmed at the Barefoot Resort and Golf in Myrtle Beach South, Carolina.

The series features a cast of 12 – six men and six women – who are at different stages in their professional golf careers.

Several are playing full time on the Symetra Tour and various mini throughout North America while others turned professional solely to qualify for Big Break Myrtle Beach.

All competitors and vying for a chance to walk the fairways on the PGA Tour or PLGA tour.

The show pits the golfers against each other in a variety of challenges that test physical skill and mental toughness. One contestant will be eliminated each week with the last players standing getting their Big Break and the opportunity to compete on the pro tour in 2015.

There is a lot at stake in this competition. The winner of Big Break Myrtle Beach will receive more than $100,000 in cash and prizes including an exemption to the 2015 Valspar Championship or the 2015 Portland Classic on the LPGA Tour and $75,000 in cash.

Filed on location in June, the series unfolds on three of Barefoot Resort's award-winning golf courses.

The Golf Channel's Big Break competition has been going for 21 seasons and has proven to be the launching pad for many aspiring professional golfers looking to take that next step in their careers.

Locally, Markle is also known for his efforts in hosting the Dufferin Diabetes Day of Champions Golf Tournament held at the Shelburne Golf and Country Club.

The tournament was a fundraiser to help kids with diabetes attend summer camp and featured several well known NHL players.

Big Break Myrtle Beach premiered on Tuesday, October 7, and airs weekly on the Golf Channel on Tuesday evenings at 9 p.m.

Roller derby season closer in support of CLASS

The Renegade Derby Dames (RDD) are once again showing their involvement in the community as they host their season closer in support of CLASS (Community Living Association for South Simcoe) on Saturday November 8, at the Alliston Memorial Arena.

The double header event which is titled the "Hoser Closer 2" will feature Alliston's Junior roller derby team the Blister Sisters and the hometown Bombshell Battalion of RDD.

In the first matchup which is scheduled for 6 p.m., catch the Blister Sisters as they take on the juniors from St. Catherine's Flat Track Brat Pack. These young ladies have all trained very hard over the duration of the season and a couple of them are even in line to play for the Team Canada Junior team.

Immediately following that game, the Bombshell Battalion will battle it out with the South Simcoe Rebel Rollers, in a hard hitting, adrenaline packed game.

Seating in the stands is available, or you can bring your own chair and sit trackside to take in more of the action. Doors open at 5 p.m. and tickets are just $5 and as always, non-perishable food donations will be collected for the Good Shepherd Food Bank. For more information go to: www.renegadederbydames.com; and to find out more about CLASS and their mission visit: www.class.on.ca

Brooke said she enjoys the physical and athletic aspects of the game as well as practice where "we learn how to pass and get down the floor quicker," as well as working on rebounds.

Despite a recent home game win over Emmanuel Christian High School, Brooke said the squad can always improve.

"We could have played better. Even though we won, I know we could have played a lot better."

A well rounded athlete, the grade ten student has also played volleyball and soccer.

The Scott Woods Band promises Christmas tradition

BY ALEX SHER

The Scott Woods Band will be performing at Grace Tipling Hall on November 8th at 2 p.m. and promises a performance filled with "Christmas Tradition", and a nostalgic presence for the audience.

Woods himself is a Canadian Fiddle Champion many times over and the two hour performance will feature oldies but goodies like 'Silent Night', 'Holy Night', and 'Away in a Manger', with vocals by the talented Amanda MacInnis.

A new addition to the band, the warm and comforting bluegrass feel of the talented couple, Gary and Nadine Boles.

"We have a lot of new trick fiddling, we'll feature the rich, sweet, warm, velvety voice of Nadine Boles performing 'Nothing But A Child' and 'Mary Did You Know'. We also have a few new band members. Kendra Norris will be teaming up with Amanda MacInnis for a special surprise, and this year Bruce Timmins will be on guitar. Wes Dymond has gone back to school to get his MBA and his father Ron Dymond will join us on drums. With Kendra Norris on fiddle, accordion and vocals, Gary Boles on upright bass and vocals, Amanda MacInnis on fiddle, step dancing, and vocals, Nadine Boles on guitar and vocals we will bring a fresh and wonderful performance to Shelburne," said Woods during a telephone interview with the Shelburne Free Press.

For those who have not seen Woods perform, you've missed out on one of the most astounding feats of coordination as Woods can play standing, rolling on a barrel, and not even skipping a beat – whipping the fiddle around playing behind his back and many other difficult trick fiddling feats.

"This is a full time career for me now. I started when I was only 8 years old, and I was youngest in the family. I took over the band in mid 1980s and people will remember my dad died in 2003," Woods still nostalgic with regards to his wonderful family history continued, "We've been coast to coast since 2006! I just love performing! Christmas Tradition is a special performance, memorable and emotional, a real treat."

Amazing to realize the The Scott Woods Band continually outdoes each performance from the previous year. A special, traditional and heartwarming way to kick off the Christmas season, advance tickets are available at Holmes Appliance and Music Shop, Shelburne Town Hall or call Toll free at 1-855-SCOTT-WOODS(1-855-726-8896). Adult tickets are $25, children 6-12 are $10 and children 5 and under are free. Proceeds will go the Shelburne Lion's Club so if you are looking for an ideal early Christmas present to give to that special person or a way to support a local charity and enjoy yourself, Grace Tipling Hall, November 8th, at 2 p.m. is the place to be.

Go to www.scottwoods.ca for more information on Woods' upcoming and very busy and popular performances. Woods will be in Meaford on the 7th, Fergus on the 9th and Tavistock on the 13th.

THE MARKET AND THE DONKEYS – Owners of 'The Market', Doug and Virginia Hansford, invite the community of Shelburne and surrounding area to visit their store located on Highway 124. The Market, a relatively new business to Shelburne offers a wide variety of specialty ice creams, cheese, bread, delectable baked goods, fresh vegetables, frozen meals, preserves, novelty gift items and will soon be offering holiday wreaths, Christmas trees, Christmas gifts and crafts. The Market's hours for the winter months will be Thursday to Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Hansford's also invite the community to attend the November 22nd Craft Show at the Shelburne Legion where they will have their wares on display for sale. Weather permitting, the Hansford's will be bring beloved pet donkeys, Fancy Pants, Panda and show-off, Larry to The Market for all to meet. For more information contact The Market located at 300 County Road, Highway 124, just after Shelburne Home Hardware Building Center at 519 925-5353. ## It's time to get your flu shot

Get the flu shot because flu season is already under way. It will take about two weeks for the vaccine to provide protection from the flu. Public Health is hosting flu clinics in the communities of Fergus, Orangeville and Guelph in the next two weeks. To find a clinic near you, call 1-800-265-7293 or visit www.wdgppublichealth.ca. You can also make an appointment to attend an immunization clinic at a Public Health office. Locations include Mount Forest, Guelph, Orangeville, Fergus, and Shelburne.

SAVE the DATE December 5th & 6th, 2014

For The Fourth Annual Michael Tupling Memorial Tournament (Honeywood Arena)

The Michael Tupling Memorial Foundation was established to help encourage youth involvement and leadership in the community. All the proceeds from this tournament will go towards recreation activities and community projects and help provide financial support for youth in the North Dufferin community who may not otherwise have the financial resources to participate.

If you wish to participate in the tournament through donations, silent auction items, or entering a team, Please contact Erin Bailey at 519-923-5842, leitherin@hotmail.com or Chester Tupling at 705-627-0672, chester.tupling@premierequipment.ca

Pazazz hosts Red Hat Society 'Halloween Monster Mash'

BY ALEX SHER

Pazazz, Shelburne's "go to" women's clothing store is well known in Dufferin County as the store where a woman can find exactly what she needs for any occasion. From outstanding casual wear to classic formal wear, Pazazz has it all including jewelry and accessories you never knew you couldn't live without. Pazazz also basks in notoriety as the only store to find the best of the best in Red Hat Society fashion.

Pazazz recently hosted their annual Red Hat Society 'Halloween Monster Mash' on Saturday, November 1st, at the Centre Dufferin Recreational Complex and although the event fell on the day after Halloween, those who attended enjoyed Halloween fun in true Red Hat Society Fashion, donning the famous Red Hat signature red and purple color combination apparel. Complete with lunch and treats, Pazazz' Monster Mash event was a huge success and with no detail escaping Pazazz owners Brenda Marshall and her daughter, Beth-Marie Baldwin's notice. Those in attendance wore their Monster Mash pins with pride.

Shelburne is very fortunate to have access to such a high quality clothing store. If want to give your wardrobe some pazazz, visit Pazazz at 122 Owen Sound St., in Shelburne's business district. For more information contact Pazazz at 519 925-3232, e-mail info@pazazz.ca, visit their Facebook page at www.facebook.com/Pazazz or go to www.pazazz.ca

Don't forget to visit Pazazz Friday, November 7th with a clipping of their ad in the Shelburne Free Press and receive a free gift!

'One Good Coat' coat drive an amazing success!

BY ALEX SHER

RE/MAX Real Estate Centre Inc. brokerage agents, Deb McAuslane and Barb Bazin can bask in the success of their pilot project 'One Good Coat'. The coat drive was a success due to the support of the community and students from Centre Dufferin District High School (under the direction and hard work of their teacher, Pauline Lloyd).

Collecting 200 coats for the Shelburne community, distribution will take place over the month of November during the hours of 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., Monday to Saturday from the Shelburne RE/MAX office.

Collected coats were scrutinized, cleaned and made ready for anyone in need of a winter coat. McAuslane and Bazin are committed and have promised to hand deliver coats to anyone who is unable to travel to their office.

"As this is our pilot project, we hope to collect even more coats next year. Using the experience we've gained this year, we'll be even more organized," said Bazin. "We plan to work closely with Community Care Access Centre as well."

Bazin went on to say, "The students worked very hard and we understand one student collected 18 coats single handedly!"

"This project took many hours, but for those who need a winter coat and can't afford one, it's all worth it," said McAuslane.

'One Good Coat' is a noble cause that once again makes Shelburne shine, keeping its own warm during the winter months.

On behalf of the Shelburne Free Press, congratulations to all those who participated in making this coat drive a huge success.

To pick up coats, visit the RE/MAX office located at 209 Main St. E in Shelburne. For more information contact McAuslane and Bazin at 519 925-2345, 888-568-5536 or visit the RE/MAX official website at <http://www.remax.ca>

The famous of Dufferin County: Wayne Townsend

BY MARNI WALSH

On October 18th, Wayne Townsend of the Dufferin County Museum and Archives (DCMA) gave one of his last public lectures as Museum Curator at the "Spirit Touches Art" event at Trinity United Church in Shelburne. It included a fascinating short version of the Museum's archives of famous residents of Dufferin County.

The former Curator's list contained no end of intriguing and surprising characters, politicians, artists and entrepreneurs - all hailing from within the borders of Dufferin. The list of the famous included Margaret Atwood, Moe Koffman, Lester B. Pearson, Robertson Davies and the infamous Jesse James. From A-Z the list is far too long to share in completion, but can be accessed on the new electronic research site "DuffStuff."

According to Nanci Malek, marketing and promotions co-ordinator for the Museum, "DuffStuff" is an online research site where searches can be made on people, burial records, veterans, newspaper articles, family trees and more. It is available as a benefit to members of the DCMA and is available free of charge to users of the public libraries within the County.

In honour of Wayne Townsend, and all that he has accomplished in his nearly 27 years as Curator of the Dufferin County Museum & Archives, the Free Press adds him to the list of the "Famous of Dufferin County" for this article. The following is courtesy of the Museum:

"Wayne Townsend was born in East Luther, Dufferin County; he went to high school in Orangeville after moving there in 1972. A lifelong collector, Wayne purchased his first antique, a Benningtonware bowl, at the age of 12. He worked in the graphic department of Drummond Business Forms in Orangeville for 10 years as the supervisor. In 1988, Wayne was hired as the Curator of the Dufferin County Museum & Archives, opening their new facility at the corner of Highway 89 and Airport Road in 1994.

He has been involved in several restorations of historic buildings in Dufferin County, including the Orangeville Opera House and Market and the Dufferin County Courthouse. Wayne has served on various local heritage committees and projects and is an active participant in numerous arts and heritage groups and activities. Since 1977, Wayne has been a resident in the historic district of Orangeville in a home built in 1894 by Alexander and Eliza Hill - Mr. Hill having been a local merchant tailor. Wayne operated the Historic American Hotel and restaurant in downtown Orangeville, where he gathered many local stories, just up the street from the original site of founding father Orange Lawrence's hotel.

Mr. Townsend has written two books on Dufferin County history. His first, Corn Flower: Creatively Canadian, was published in 2001 by Natural Heritage Books. His second, Orangeville, The Heart of Dufferin County was published by Dundurn Publishing."

Congratulations and best wishes to Wayne, whose last official day as Curator was October 22nd ... the word is he is already back volunteering at the Museum. Information on the famous of Dufferin County and much more can be accessed through "DuffStuff" on the Museum website www.dufferinmuseum.com
