Long-time Councillor Tom Egan dies at 64

BY MICHELLE JANZEN

One of Shelburne's long-serving Council members, Councillor Tom Egan passed away surrounded by his family Saturday, July 22, at the age of 64.

Subsequently the flags at town hall were lowered to half-mast.

Tom Egan was first elected to the Town of Shelburne Council in 1998 and has always been re-elected with strong support from residents.

He was an employee of Canadian Tire Acceptance for 24 years, and then for 17 years, an employee of the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Commission (OLG).

Councillor Egan served on the Shelburne Fire

Department board since 2002 and was Chair of the Board from 2012 until present.

"Tom contributed a lot, prior to and during, the most recent expansion of the Fire Station," says Town of Shelburne CAO John Telfer.

"We sat on the Canada Day Committee together for 15 years, and he was always a behind-the-scenes kind of guy," Telfer tells us in a recent interview. "He had a good logistic sense of what was right and wrong and didn't think residents needed to be burdened with tons of by-laws. When a new one was introduced it had better have facts backing up why it was needed, or you know Tom would have questions, always wanting to keep the small-town charm of Shelburne. Our prayers go out to the family."

Mayor Ken Bennington posted to social media shortly after the family posted of Tom's passing, "Tom Egan was a Councillor for the Town of Shelburne of some twenty years. He was a valued colleague, a trusted advisor and my friend. His clever wit and calming influence added much needed spice to Town Council meetings."

"I personally valued Tom's opinions and I held tremendous respect for him," Mayor Bennington continued. "I will miss his voice of reason on Monday nights. I offer my sincere condolences to Carol and her family. Council meeting just won't be the same without him."

Celebration of life set for Thursday

As a devoted member of Kinsmen Club of Shelburne for over twenty years, fellow Kinsmen and Town Councillor Dan Sample had this to say about Egan: “Tom’s inspiration and devotion to the Shelburne club was tremendous and will be missed. The Kinsmen Club devotes time and money for projects for the community and Tom was always an integral part of those events.

“He spent countless hours helping organize events and projects such as Canada Day, CF Tollgate and Fiddle Park. Tom was always there to lend a helping hand to make sure everything was running smoothly, whether it was helping out with a project or hosting a meeting in his home. Tom made life-long friends both within the Shelburne Club as well as other Clubs in the area, and he will be sadly missed by all his fellow Kin.”

From the Shelburne Free Press, we send our condolences to Tom’s family and thank them for giving of their time so their husband/father/grandfather could help to make Shelburne the wonderful place it is to live in.

A Celebration of Councillor Tom Egan’s life will be held on Thursday July 27, at the Shelburne Legion, 203 William Street from 12:00 noon to 5:00 pm.

Council Notes:

Egan mourned, Water considered, appointments announced

BY PETER RICHARDSON

Monday’s Council meeting opened with a moment of silence for recently deceased Councillor Tom Egan, who sadly passed unexpectedly last Saturday morning.

A memorial is scheduled to be held at the Legion this coming Thursday.

In respect to his passing, Town Flags are flying at half-mast.

WATER RATES

Andrew Grunda from Watson and Associates Economists Ltd. presented Council with an overview of the company’s recently completed Water and Wastewater Rate study, the first such since the original study, from 2011.

The new study shows that Shelburne’s current rates, though currently keeping pace with growth and development, will not be sufficient to handle future demands for infrastructure upgrades and expansion to handle projected demands.

The study recommends that, over the course of its ten year projections, both water and sewage rates be increased gradually and the additional funds be held in the Town’s reserves for future needs.

Current rates are based on a two part formula, that being a base rate, that is constant and a consumption rate, that varies with the actual amount used.

The consumption rate is expected to double in ten years for water, while the base rate will remain almost static. The opposite will be the case for wastewater charges.

The study was based on the average family in Shelburne, consisting of 2.8 people. Compared to other municipalities with similar figures, the Town was behind some and equal to others in rates.

Over the ten year span of the study, the changes will amount to approximately $5 per user per month.

Retiring CAO John Telfer pointed out to Council that the study did not nor could it account for the fact that the Town helps to finance infrastructure with various grants, from other areas of government.

Since receiving said grants is not a certainty, they could not be factored into the study. However, if received, they would allow the Town to consider other options, beyond raising rates.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Several new appointments were also announced at the meeting and confirmed in the By-laws.

As previously noted, CAO/Clerk John Telfer is retiring, effective August, and so, it was announced that current Treasurer Carol Sweeney would become acting CAO, while Deputy Treasurer Carey Holme would assume the role of Treasurer. Jennifer Willoughby will assume the duties of the Town Clerk, with her deputy yet to be named. Finally, Jeff Clayton has been confirmed as the new Deputy Fire Chief.

What I heard at Changing Workplaces Committee

BY SYLVIA JONES, MPP
DUFFERIN-CALEDON

The Standing Committee on Finance and Economic Affairs Committee has been consulting on the government's recent introduction of Bill 148.

The proposed legislation would make substantial changes to the labour laws in the province of Ontario. The proposed changes include expanding personal emergency leave to 10 days, including two paid days, expanding vacation time, changes to the rules around shifts and changes to the collective bargaining rules.

While these changes are substantial and important, most of the media and public discussion has been focused on a proposed increase to the minimum wage to $15 an hour by 2019, a 32 per cent increase in 18 months.

The proposed changes in Bill 148 – Fair Workplaces, Better Jobs Act, 2017 are substantial. Bill 148 passed first reading on June 1st. Understanding that the proposed amendments are significant and include many changes in Ontario labour laws; the Legislative Assembly referred Bill 148 to the Standing Committee on Finance and Economic Affairs to hold public hearings over the summer after first reading.

On July 18, I joined the Standing Committee's meeting in Kitchener. I heard from businesses leaders, labour law experts, employees and more. What is clear from these discussions is that the changes proposed are wide-ranging and complex. It reinforces to me several things. First, many businesses are concerned about what the changes will mean to their future.

Many feel that the 32 per cent increase in the minimum wage is coming too quickly. Many businesses felt "blindsided" by the proposal because it was only recently that the government had been defending its plan to tie the minimum wage to inflation, as well as giving businesses ample forewarning of an increase.

Some businesses emphasized that they would love to pay their staff more, but are seriously concerned that they cannot handle such a swift increase. As one presenter put it, "I have to come up with $1.5 million and I don't really know how I'm going to do that."

Second, it is clear to me that many Ontarians are feeling pressure on their budget.

Life has simply become more unaffordable for many families across Ontario: from hydro rates to housing prices. I heard emotion testimony from individuals who are facing immense pressure to pay the bills.

Finally it is clear that before we move ahead with these changes, the government needs to have an economic impact study so we can know what these changes mean for employees and the businesses they work for. After all, the Premier's own Advisory Panel on minimum wage found that for every 10 per cent you raise the minimum wage, youth employment goes down 6 per cent.

If you have comments regarding Bill 148 please contact my office at 519-941-7751 or by email at sylvia.jonesqp@pc.ola.org. Hearing your concerns on these changes will help me continue to advocate for Dufferin-Caledon.

Ottawa Journal: Trudeau's Carbon Tax

BY DAVID TILSON, M.P.
DUFFERIN-CALEDON

Undoubtedly, the current Liberal government's carbon tax is going to be expensive for Canadians. It's going to impact every Canadian, as well as businesses in Canada.

It understandably raises questions and concerns for hardworking Canadian families who are trying to pay their bills and don't need to be burdened with another tax to pay for Prime Minister Trudeau's pet projects.

The Conservative Official Opposition has stood up for Canadians ever since the current Liberal government announced its carbon tax.

We recognize that the Canadian taxpayer will foot the bill and it's considerable. The Liberal government's own numbers say that they will be imposing a tax of 11 cents per litre on gasoline alone by 2022.

Furthermore, the overall cost has been pegged at anywhere from $1,250 to $2,500 per year for the average family.

In fact, research shows that low-income Canadians will have the hardest time paying a carbon tax, as this new tax makes the cost of necessities, like home heating, food, and fuel more expensive.

What's more concerning is that the current Liberal government hasn't been completely honest with Canadians about how much it will cost them after campaigning on a platform of transparency during the last election.

The carbon tax is a cash grab that will do nothing to reduce emissions and nothing to improve the quality of our air and water. It's nothing more than a new source of money for the current government to spend on its pet projects. It also comes at a time when Canada's neighbour to the south is moving in the opposite direction – putting Canada at a significant competitive disadvantage.

It is not difficult to comprehend that Canadian firms and foreign investors won't invest in the Canadian economy if they do not know the overall cost of doing business vis-à-vis our American counterparts.

The current Liberal government should actually be working to improve Canada's competitive advantage to support Canadian businesses, not imposing a job killing carbon tax on provinces and territories.

The Conservative Official Opposition will continue to stand up and be the voice of hardworking Canadians and their families. We will continue to hold the current Liberal government accountable for the cost of the carbon tax and its impact on both Canadian families and business, as well as other tax hikes. Canadians deserve better from their government.

New downtown parking system coming

BY VANESSA ALBANESE
MUNICIPAL BYLAW
ENFORCEMENT OFFICER

The Town of Shelburne will be implementing a permit parking system within the downtown core.

Store owners, employees and tenants will have designated areas to leave their vehicle parked without having to move every three hours.

Parking spaces on Main Street, Owen Sound Street, William Street, and Victoria street within the downtown core will remain free three-hour parking. This will allow more downtown parking to be open for customers to do their shopping.

There will be twenty-eight permit spaces at the William Municipal Lot, eight permit spaces at the Victoria Municipal Lot and thirty-five permit spaces at the Wellington Municipal Lot.

Permit passes will be available for purchase at Town Hall for $150.00 per year or $12.50 per month. Each lot will have a color-coded permit associated with it that will hang on the rear-view mirror of the vehicle to indicate where the permit is to be used.

A new time schedule has been set out for the different Municipal Lots.

The William Municipal Lot has no time limit for permit holders. In the Victoria Municipal Lot, free parking is available from 4:30pm - 12:00am, but to park during business hours a permit is required. The Wellington Municipal Lot will allow customers and business owners to park unlimited during the day but require a permit if a vehicle is being left overnight from 12 midnight to 7:00 am.

Should you have any questions, you may contact the bylaw department directly at the Town of Shelburne By-Law Office 519-925-2600 Ext.255.

Farmers' Market Spotlight: "Mandalas" at the market – making connections

BY MARNI WALSH

Mandala is a Sanskrit word for circle and an artistic starting point that Art Therapist Tiffany McCabe uses to help her clients "bring a sense of connection from self to the outer world."

Ms. McCabe shared her work at the Shelburne Farmers' Market last Thursday, June 20, giving Market patrons an opportunity to experience the power of art as a tool for healing.

"Art therapy is a form of psychotherapy," says Tiffany. "It uses colour, imagery, and shapes when words just are not enough. It gives us a platform to invite creativity into our lives. When we start to become creative with art work, such as painting, colouring, drawing or using clay, we are able to look at situations or problems in a creative way. Art therapy essentially trains our brains to 'look outside the box.'

"Creating Mandalas at the Farmers Market is so beautiful because they are both about making connections. Mandalas allow us to connect our inner self, to the outer world, much like the farmers market where we are able to connect to food, art, and community. As we build these connections we are able to better understand self and our environment, once we have established these connections we can then appreciate and build gratitude

"Mandalas allow us to connect our inner self, to the outer world," she says, "much like the Farmers' Market where we are able to connect to food, art, and community." Shelburne Farmers' Market runs every Thursday from 3 pm until 7 pm at the corner of First and Owen Sound Street. In addition to special event days, such as Tiffany's Art Therapy, the Market offers an abundance of fresh, local produce from vegetables to baking as well as art and crafts, live music, and children's events.

GRADUATION HODGSON

On June 14, 2017, Corah Lynn Victoria Hodgson graduated on the Dean's Honours List with Distinction with an Honours Bachelor of Arts in History and Sociology, and a Minor in Classical Studies, from St. Jerome's University-University of Waterloo. Corah has received various scholarships and awards throughout her university career, including the St. Jerome's University Board of Governors-Faculty of Arts Scholarship, David E. Wright Scholarship, Pierre Elliott Trudeau Scholarship, and the Elliot T. Grasett Award from the Canadian Federation of University Women, Kitchener-Waterloo. During convocation Corah received the St. Jerome's University Department of History Award and the Department of Sociology Award for Highest Academic Achievement, along with the University of Waterloo-Distinguished Academic Achievement Award in Sociology.

Currently a Student Research Associate with the Centre on Foreign Policy and Federalism, Corah will be pursuing her Master's in History at the University of Waterloo in the fall. "Corah is the most exceptional undergraduate student that I have encountered in my fifteen years of university teaching," says Dr. Whitney Lackenbauer, a professor of history at St. Jerome's, with whom she is working as a Research Assistant this summer and who will be supervising her Master's thesis. "I see her as a true academic star - she displays an intellectual maturity far beyond her years, excels in various disciplines, and is unquestionably ready to excel in graduate school. She is certainly most deserving of the prestigious scholarship that she has received to support her Master's work." Corah is the daughter of Lynn and Bruce Hodgson, and the granddaughter of Barb and the late Jim Squirrell of Horning's Mills and the late Margaret and late George Hodgson of Primrose.

Corah, with your smile, passion, drive, ingenuity, and voice, you can change the world. Congratulations! With all our love, your family.

towards what we have to offer as a person, and how we can strengthen our community."

Passionate about providing creative mental health services within Shelburne, Tiffany McCabe holds a B.A. in Psychology, Bachelor of Social Work (BSW), Master of Social Work, and DTATI, Art Therapist.

She first started using a form of Art Therapy when she was doing her BSW and working in a rural community in India.

Later, "when I was doing my Master of Social Work, I was working in Kenya," says Tiffany. "The women in the community did not feel safe enough to use this as a platform for change, so I used photo voice to document my own journey. As I started my career as a social worker, I realized how important art is for families for healing and transforming."

Tiffany says, "Personal mandalas can hold images that have specific meaning for the artist. Starting with a circle is easier to express our thoughts, emotions, and feelings" as "circles can be found everywhere, from the sun and the moon, to the centre of flowers, to wedding rings."

Her goal for the Farmers' Market was to "allow for an opportunity to create, connect, and have fun."

She says, "The market for me is a place to bump into neighbours, buy fresh produce for my families, and learn about new things our community has to offer."

Shelburne Farmers' Market runs every Thursday from 3 pm until 7pm at the corner of First and Owen Sound Street. In addition to special event days, such as Tiffany's Art Therapy, the market offers an abundance of fresh, local produce from vegetables to baking as well as art and crafts, live music, and children's events.

Tiffany McCabe runs a private practice at the Mel Lloyd Centre. "Art therapy can be for anyone," she says, "no art skills are necessary." Specific examples of those who might benefit from Tiffany's work include: "people living with a form of memory impairment, anxiety, depression, life transition, autism, ADD/ADHD, grief, end of life therapy, and major life events."

Heritage Festival headliner Corb Lund a “fantastic showman”

BY MARNI WALSH

Raised in Southern Alberta near Taber, singer-songwriter Corb Lund is known for his Country-Roots sound and his Albertan pride.

The Juno Award-winning Lund is the headliner for the Heritage Music Festival on the evening of Friday, August 11 at the Centre Dufferin Recreation Centre (CDRC) in Shelburne.

Sandra Gallagher, Shelburne’s Heritage Music Festival Co-Chair says, “It was a challenge to find a Friday night headliner that was as popular as Jim Cuddy,” last year’s big draw, “but we have found a lineup that is sure to please.”

Co-Chair, Bobbi Ferguson says the plan is to “continue the momentum of last years’ success” with the lineup.

“When we were searching for entertainment we were looking at many different options,” says Bobbi Ferguson. “We asked people for their opinions and for suggestions of what they would like to see. Corb was suggested to us about four or five times which made us take closer look at him as our Friday Night Headliner. Everyone knows the ‘Truck Got Stuck’ song, but he has many other incredible songs that will please even those who are not diehard country music fans. He is not only a talented musician but a fantastic showman.”

From his beginnings near Taber, Corb Lund took his musical talents to Edmonton where he studied jazz guitar and bass at Grant MacEwan College. Here, he and some college friends founded The Smalls, a punk rock band that became an Edmonton favourite in the 1990s.

Eventually, Lund turned his talent to Country music, forming the Corb Lund Band in 1995, later changing the name to Corb Lund and the Hurtin’ Albertans.

The Hurtin’ Albertans, with Lund on vocals and guitar, have released nine albums and toured Canada, United States, Europe and Australia. Their third album, “Five Dollar Bill” in 2002, established Lund as a critical success, reaching gold sales in Canada.

The next album, “Hair in My Eyes like a Highland Steer” was awarded Album of the Year by the Canadian Country Music Association in 2006, with a follow up album “Horse Soldier! Horse Soldier!” in 2007.

In 2009, Lund signed a three-album deal with New West Records home of major recording artists like Dwight Yoakam and Kris Kristofferson.

His first record on New West – “Losin’ Lately Gambler,” was released in September of that year followed by “Live at the Edmonton Coliseum” and then ‘Cabin Fever.’ Next, “Counterfeit Blues” featured songs cut live from Memphis Sun Studios, and in 2015 Lund released new songs on his album “Things That Can’t Be Undone” which was produced in Nashville.

Bobbi Ferguson says, “Tickets sales are steady and on par with this time last year” for the headliner and invites residents to “come and enjoy this fun performer and his opening act Johnson Crook. Doors open at 6:30 pm and the beverages will be cold.”

See Corb Lund at the CDRC August 11 – opening act starts at 8 pm.

Tickets cost $45 and are available online at www.heritagemusicfestival.com or at Holmes Appliances and Music Store at 135 Main Street West in Shelburne, as well as at the doors of the CDRC on August 11.

Police appeal for information on overnight mischiefs, vehicle fire

At approximately 3 a.m. on Saturday, June 22, Shelburne Police and Shelburne and District Fire Department responded to 911 calls for a vehicle fire.

Upon arrival the vehicle, which was parked on the side of the road, was found engulfed in flames.

An investigation was initiated which revealed that several residences in the immediate area were victims of various types of mischief, and a theft.

The vehicle fire, which appears to be the result of foul play, was the most significant incident.

An ATV that fled the area is believed to have been involved.

The total value of the damage is still being assessed.

Shelburne Police is appealing the public for any information, no matter how insignificant it may seem.

They are encouraged to contact the Shelburne Police Service at 519-925-3312 or anonymously through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or online at www.crimestoppersdm.com

Shelburne Police Bike Safety Campaign winners announced

Every year, Shelburne Police hosts a bicycle safety campaign design to help promote the use of helmets and safe cycling.

During the month of June, Shelburne Police watch for children riding their bikes in a safe manner and wearing helmets. The officers then enter these safe young cyclists into a draw for a new bike.

Every year on July 1, during the Shelburne Canada Festivities, one boy’s name and one girl’s name is drawn to win a new bike.

The bikes are sponsored every year by Dufferin Mutual Insurance Company.

“A special thanks to a great community partner – Dufferin Mutual Insurance Company,” states Chief Moore.

Shelburne Police reminds all cyclists to wear helmets, and ride safely!

This year’s winner of the girl’s bike is Shaye Sherif pictured below with Leanne Doig of Dufferin Mutual Insurance, and Constables Fudge and Fines of Shelburne Police.

WE DON'T BREW OUR BEER FOR THE AWARDS.

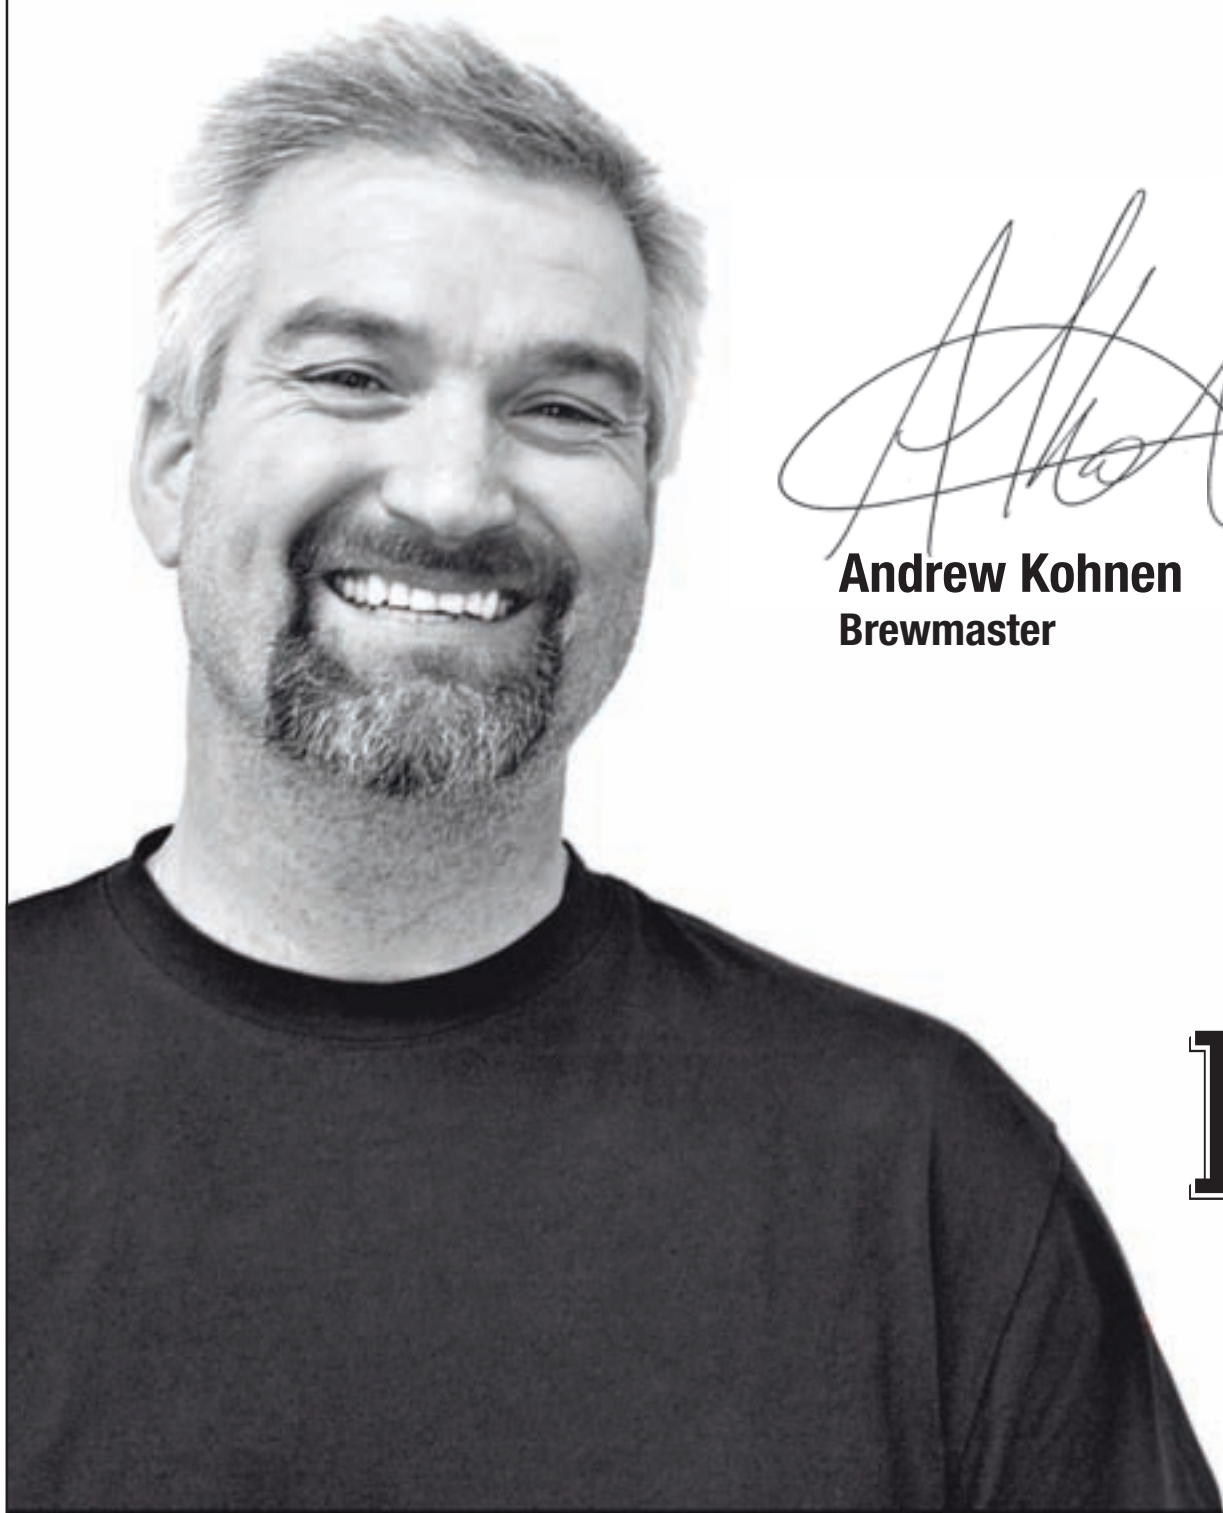

BUT HE DOES!

Our brewmaster, Andrew Kohlen, threw away a successful career in logistics to pursue his dream of reconnecting with the brewing roots of his family. This carried him to the UK's prestigious Brewlab in Sunderland, England, where he procured the alchemy that would drive his signature brewing style.

He took what he could from there and ventured to Scotland, Cornwall, and ultimately to Krefeld, Germany, working in the same brewery that had belonged to his ancestors. He came home to Canada for Hockley.

You could call it dumb, but we call it destiny.

Feral Cat Rescue presents business plan to Council

BY PETER RICHARDSON

Monday night's Council meeting saw the presentation of a much-anticipated business plan from the Feral Cat Rescue.

Previously, Council had instructed the owner, Sharon Morden, to come back to them with both a business plan and a financial overview of the operation in order for it to better understand the needs of the Rescue and ascertain how Council could assist in relocating – and possibly helping to support – Sharon's enterprise.

Feral Cat Rescue presented a detailed accounting of its financial requirements and the aforementioned business plan.

They also presented a copy of a Cat By-law from Saugeen Shores for Council's consideration.

The Feral Cat Rescue, or FCR, is currently not registered as a not-for-profit company, but, as a part of the business plan, will become incorporated as a not-for-profit corporation.

They currently depend entirely on donations and Sharon Morden's income to survive.

The plan outlined the goals and services currently offered by FCR as well as a Mission Statement and a detailed outline of their search for a new location within the Town.

The hope is that these new quarters will allow FCR to offer more public services.

These would include assisting other, non-feral cats, small animals and dogs, if space allowed.

The Feral Cat Rescue would also be interested in becoming the Animal Control Service for the Town, if feasible.

FCR's projected budget for operation in a new facility is approximately $62,000, this figure being partly based on the costs associated with the only suitable space that could be found within Shelburne.

Monthly expenses for that space would amount to approximately $2,200.00 per month, or $26,400.00 annually.

Sharon's current expenses run at roughly, $48,000.00 annually. FCR hopes to be able to fund the move and the first year from grant monies, in addition to their present funding revenues.

The Cat By-law accompanying the FCR presentation offered Council some options for a similar one in the Town. It was a comprehensive document, outlining such things as licensing charges, non-compliance penalties and reclamation fees when a cat has been taken in under the By-law.

Mayor Bennington noted that he felt these fees were far too low, compared to those for reclaiming a dog, from animal control.

The Saugeen Shores charge was only $10 for a first offence, whereas most dog reclamation would be more in the neighbourhood of ten times that amount. Nevertheless, the By-law was well received by Council who definitely intend to study it further.

Jennifer Willoughby, informed Council that a RFP is currently out for animal control in Shelburne and that one respondent has included felines in their proposal. This would give Council an idea as to the cost of such a service.

Mayor Bennington then assured Sharon Morden that before any company would be hired to perform this type of service, in Shelburne, he would offer her the opportunity to match their proposal.

CAO Telfer asked if FCR knew the cat population of Shelburne. Sharon replied that her estimate would be approximately 1,400 animals. Telfer then noted that based on a tag fee of $20.00 per cat and assuming that every cat owner complied, this would only generate $28,000.00 in revenue.

He also asked Sharon exactly what type of space would be required by the rescue, how many rooms and if they had to be finished walls. Her reply was that between seven and eight rooms were required and that they had to be finished drywall.

Both Councillors Sample and Chambers noted that a request for an amount this large would have to be vetted through the budget process, which will begin in September of this year. However, in past years, Shelburne has offered a total of $20,000 in grant money that has been spread amongst eight recipients.

Councillor Sample went on to ask if figures were available from other, similar businesses, in the region and was FCR aware of them, as this would aid them in knowing how and where to solicit funding. This is a pressing concern for FCR as their relocation deadline is in October.

Although the Mayor stated that he was not able to extend this deadline, Councillor Sample said he would be in favour of a short extension so as to allow for these figures to be investigated and to search further for a new location.

Councillor Benotto also noted that Council needs to consider these proposals and set a date to address the matter further.

As a final question, Mayor Bennington asked that if a suitable building was available at no charge, could FCR then sustain itself with current financing.

Sharon's answer was yes, assuming that renovations were not prohibitively expensive. She also noted that she realized that the monies required by the business plan needed to come from various sources and not simply the Town.

Council, at this juncture, thanked Feral Cat Rescue, for their presentation and their efforts and passed a motion to assess all the information provided and bring the matter before Council again by September 25.

Streams Community Hub aims to empower youth

BY MARNI WALSH

Executive Director Andrew James says he co-founded Streams Community Hub as a way to help Shelburne youth to "discover passion, potential and purpose."

The not-for-profit organization focuses on providing programs that enrich the lives of youth in the community by providing camps and activities at little or no charge whenever possible.

The Streams camps are running for the first time this summer at Centennial Hylands Elementary School and registration for two of the camps are already full with a waiting list – "which is great," says Andrew.

The organization says it will cost $25/day per participant to provide the Streams Arts Camp experience this year. "We are aiming to accommodate 15 participants per week for the four weeks."

Already, there are 40 kids registered. Andrew James pursued an acting career in New York after winning the Dramatic Arts Award for his High School. Later, in Toronto he started his own Christian entertainment company called S4 and produced a nationally distributed music magazine as well as an annual drumming skills competition.

Recently, Andrew published his first inspirational book "Bird Words," and produced an Urban Gospel talk show airing weekly on the Miracle Channel.

He and his wife Juli-Anne, one of four members on the board of directors for Streams, live in Shelburne with their three daughters.

"Trinity United Church and the Royal Canadian Legion Shelburne sponsored several children to attend," Mr. James says. "[Streams camps, and the group] received a lot of great feedback and response from parents" at the Streams information booth during the Shelburne Street Festival.

"A few teachers at Primrose, Centennial, Hyland and Centre Dufferin have praised the group's efforts and desire to bring creative arts and education to our youth."

Andrew is also appreciative that, "The Town of Shelburne, John Telfer and Carol Maitland, have been a great support."

Streams is offering area kids programs such as

Executive Director Andrew James is the co-founder of Streams Community Hub in Shelburne which is running camps for kids this summer at Centennial Hylands Elementary School.

Digital Storytelling, Broadway Bound Musical Theatre, and Sing, Dance, Play day camps running from 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. starting the last week of July and running until mid-August. Supervision is available from 8:00 a.m. before the start camps and until 5:00 p.m. after closing.

The group has been actively fundraising with the hope of making the camp accessible to all kids.

"Equality of accessibility is one of the core values" for the group and if they cannot make it free, they at least hope to subsidize costs for parents.

Streams camps ask that those who can - pay half the week's cost for a child to participate. Families who can afford the full registration fee may donate the other half to support Streams programs.

"Many have expressed that this is a wonderful idea and a great need for our youth here in Shelburne," says Andrew James.

However, volunteers and financial support are still needed - if you would like to become involved, phone 289-203-8202 or visit www.streamshub.org.

Cubs give up loss to Dodgers in tough fifth inning

BY BRIAN LOCKHART

The Mansfield Senior Cubs took an early lead in their Wednesday night, July 19, game against the Bolton Dodgers, but that lead evaporated when the Dodgers managed to score five runs in the fifth inning and held on to take the win.

The Cubs were on the scoreboard in the second inning when they loaded the bases and Tyler Greer singled to bring in the opening run.

ing drive down the third base line. The inning ended with a Bolton player getting trapped between second and third and being tagged out on the run-down.

The third inning got underway with a line drive from Mansfield's Logan Wallace down the first base line. The next hit had a quick turn over on a double play for the first two outs and the side retired with no runs scored.

Wallace hit again in the fourth to bring in a run to make it a 2-1 Mansfield game.

The Cubs took a 3-1 lead in the fifth with the bases loaded and a player walked after being hit by the pitch. A second walk brought in another run for a 4-1 lead.

The game turned around in the bottom of the fifth inning when Bolton's Michael Gemmiti hit a solo home run over the left field fence.

That was followed by four more Dodgers runs – one on a walk, and two brought in on a single hit – to move the Bolton team into the lead.

The Dodgers managed to score three more to end the game while shutting down the Cubs for a 9-4 win.

The Cubs will play their final regular season game against the Lisle Astros on Friday, July 28, in Lisle.

Junior Cubs meet Midland in playoffs

BY BRIAN LOCKHART

The North Dufferin Baseball League Junior division playoffs are now underway with four teams battling to take the 2017 championship.

The Mansfield Cubs are up against the Midland Twins in their opening series and, after game one, the Cubs are leading.

The Cubs managed to shut-out the Twins 5-0 in the first game on Sunday, July 23, in Midland.

Recording similar records for the regular season, the Cubs finished in third place with a 7-9-3 record while the Twins placed second with an 8-9-1 record.

Mansfield recorded 100 runs for the season while allowing 99 against.

Their solid defensive skills will come in handy during the playoffs.

The Twins allowed 131 runs against while scoring 110 runs for the season.

Game Two of the series was scheduled for Tuesday, July 25, on the diamond in Lisle with results not available at press time.

In the other Junior series, the New Lowell Knights will be up against the Lisle Astros.

New Lowell ended the regular season as the number one team with a 13-5 record scoring 136 runs and allowing only 85 against.

The Astros finished the regular season in the number four spot with five wins, ten losses and three games that resulted in a tie.

The winning teams of the first round of playoffs will meet to play in the final to determine the 2017 NDBL Junior champion.

Christian Perspectives: What is the Purpose of the Mind?

BY VINCENT STERLING
SHELBURNE WORSHIP CENTRE

PROVERBS. 23:7: For as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he; Eat and drink saith he to thee' but his heart is not with thee.

Meaning, how and what we think determines who we are. We are not necessarily defined by what we do, but by what we think, even though what we do derives from what we think.

Therefore, I am what I think. Yes we are! Our decisions, choices, will, words, and actions all come from the thinking of our mind.

Evil is un-GODly

- Carnal Minds
- Evil Thoughts
- Evil Imaginations

Good is GODly

- Spiritual Minds
- Wise Thoughts

Walking in perfect obedience to the LORD is of utmost importance, for every man, whether he or she is a believer and follower of JESUS CHRIST or not.

We must agree that our mind plays the most significant and the most important role in our world of obedience, which therefore, means we need to carefully take a close look at our mind in order to intelligently understand the purpose and the functionalities of the mind.

WHAT IS THE MIND?

The part of the person that thinks, reasons, feels, and remembers

Full Definition:

The element or complex of elements in an individual that feels, perceives, thinks, will, and especially reasons.

The conscious mental events and capabilities in an organism

The mind of a man is of the greatest significance of his existence. The mind must be guarded constantly with the heaviest and deadliest artilleries, in order to protect the mind from all the various possible invasion of evil.

The mind must also be heavily maintained and fuelled.

- A person truly cannot over-perform or under-perform the position of their mind.

Olympic wrestler Ohenewa Akuffo spends time at SWOLE Summer Camp

Through her own challenges, she has learned valuable practices to encourage others to stand up to uncertainties, face challenges, and welcome change.

As a speaker, Ohenewa has captivated thousands with her keynote addresses on Change your mind, Change your life.

Ohenewas' words reach the hearts of her audience to motivate change in themselves and their community. As a community advocate, she has a passion for inspiring youth and young adults to achieve greatness.

"Becoming an Olympian, a 10-time national champion and multiple world medalist has made me the person I am today," Ohenewa tells the Free Press. "I plan on giving back to Olympic wrestling as a life-long ambassador, and to continue my work speaking to schools and community organizations across Canada, inspiring young people to find their own paths to greatness."

A sought-after professional speaker, armed with a Bachelor of Business Administration (Hons) Marketing degree with a Certificate in Management and Sports Administration from York University, this accomplished athlete had the participants of the camp eagerly listening to how she became a world class wrestler, with an underlying message to never give up on your dreams.

- No one should expect a person to over-perform the true position of his/her mind, attempting, trying, or pushing to do so, will only result in the pusher and the person who is being pushed to both end up hurting.
- It sounds then that a very clear understanding of person's mental position needs to be known, accepted, and respected, in order to establish a firm and smooth relationship. Yes, but who has the time?
- Thanks be to the LORD GOD ALMIGHTY, who sends us this very clear revelation of HIS wisdom, and knowledge, because I could have lost my wife, my children, my friends, brethren, and others. But, with this knowledge, I'm better able to treat everyone rightly and appropriately.
- Knowledge is certainly powerful; understanding is certainly the principal thing, and wisdom has certainly built herself a very fortified city, and hath hewn out seven majestic pillows, to guarantee against any and all attacks and invasions.

Take time to know each other, by learning how the next person thinks, how he/she perceives things; how the person reason about matter:

Then first accept and respect that that is the person you are dealing with, based on their mentality/mindset/way of thinking. And do not deal with the person, the way you are, or the way you want the person to be

Secondly, learn to operate with the person, as he/she is: however, where obvious changes need to be done in the person, don't try to push and force change, because it will never work. Try and respectfully apply to the person's ability to reason. Even though the person's reasoning ability might be so poor, or so low, and nothing close to yours.

We need volunteers; we can't do it without you

The Orangeville & District Animal Centre depends on the kindness, generosity and skills of our volunteers. Dedicated volunteers assist us with tasks such as basic animal care, fundraising events, general administrative duties and staff for both Paws & Claws Thrift Store locations. Consider becoming a member of our team. Call Judi, Volunteer Coordinator, at 519-942-3140.

- The mind is connected to the heart
- The heart is connected to the spirit
- The spirit is connected to the soul
- The soul is connected to Eternity, from where it came

If the heart does not and cannot think, reason, or perceive, how can it be desperately wicked above all things?

Because the heart is like an empty container, waiting to be filled with good or evil; righteousness or unrighteousness

Then the polluted poisonous heart, damaged by the mind, kills the spirit (Rom. 6:23); and the dead spirit condemns the soul. The eternal future of the soul is determined by the activities of the mind.

BY WENDY GABREK

Trillium Ford Lincoln Ltd. (Alliston & Shelburne) was pleased to support Trinity Centennial United Church, Rosemont, by hosting a Drive 4 UR Community event on Saturday, July 8.

For each eligible test drive, Ford of Canada will donate $20 to the Church – up to $6,000.

At press time final numbers had not yet been tallied, but more than 100 people took part in the event.

Shelburne Library News: Trans-Canada 150 Trek Update

BY ROSE DOTTEN

We've walked a total of 2117 km since starting our Trek at the beginning of the month, which put us near Saint-Nicolas, QC!

We are also co-hosting a group walking event with the Dufferin Hi-Land Bruce Trail Club this Saturday, July 29. We are leaving the 1st Line parking lot at 8:30 am, and have the option to do either a 3 km or 6 km loop.

If you are planning on joining us, you must call the Library prior to Friday at 5 pm to register! With all these steps we're going to put in, hopefully we will make it to Ontario by next week!

Children's Programs

The TD Summer Reading Club continues on with our participants learning all about Canadian Inventions this week! Join YOUR Library on Mondays for Book Club (Ages 8+), Tuesdays for Craft Club, Wednesdays for LEGO Club/Maker space, Thursdays for a Movie and Fridays for Story time with our new children's librarian, Miss Brittany.

The program also includes, weekly quests, challenges and prizes! Stop in any time to register or find out more information on how you can be involved this summer.

Join us on Tuesday, August 8, for RUBE GOLDBERG MACHINES, guest presentation by the University of Guelph at 10:30 am at YOUR Award-Winning Library.

TEEN SCENE

Teens were tasked with creating cakes that demonstrated originality, "Canadian-ness," and aesthetic value last week in our Teen Great Canada Cake Decorating Challenge!

Our Teen clubs are very democratic in nature, so when it came to who won the competition, we voted; the only caveat being that you couldn't vote for your own cake!

Our big event this week is being hosted in conjunction with the University of Guelph's Let's Talk Science program! LTS is bringing a Crime Lab to YOUR Library!

A crime has been committed and it's up to the Teens to learn the science behind crime scene investigation. It is absolutely imperative that you are registered to come to this event! There are limited spaces available.

Register by calling YOUR Library at 519-925-2168 or dropping by the circulation desk!

ADULT EVENTS

Tickets are now available for Authors in the Hills of Mulmur. We have four amazing authors all telling their stories about various aspects of Canada. Authors are Robert Rotenberg, Drew Hayden Taylor, Sandra Perron, and Hugh Brewster with Neil Orford moderating the program. It will be a fun event with great food and refreshments once again being held in a barn in Mulmur!!

Keep the date: Sunday, August 20, from 1 - 4 pm. Please purchase tickets soon so you won't be disappointed.

MEMORIAM

Doris Margaret COX (nee Shasta)

(January 22 1915 - July 18 2017)

After a long and beautiful life, our dear Mother and Nana died peacefully in her sleep in the early morning of July 18, 2017 at Dufferin Oaks in Shelburne, Ontario. Beloved Mother to Marian Jorgensen of Shelburne. Ever loving Nan to the late Philip (Lisa) Jorgensen, Randal (Sue) Jorgensen of Gravenhurst and Eric (Carol Ann) Jorgensen of Shelburne. Beloved Great Grandmother to David and Sarah Jorgensen, and Emma and Peter Jorgensen. Dear Great Great Grandmother to Emma and Shawn's son Mason. Predeceased by her father George Shasta and mother Sophia (nee Ziyone) and by her siblings Joseph Shasta, Connie Fick and Patricia Eames. Aunt Dode will be remembered with love by her many nieces and nephews, as well as by her many cousins of various generations around the country. Although most of her friends have passed before her, she will be remembered fondly by so many of their children, and all the other people whose lives she touched in her long career and life.

Cremation has taken place; only a small family service will be held.

Doris was born in Kreuzberg, Manitoba in 1915. Her family's story growing up in rural Manitoba was probably a common one of the descendants of Land Grant pioneers in the area west of Gimli: a life of hard farm work and providing for the family. Her father worked for the railway, but he died young, leaving her mother to provide for four children. Her plans for higher education dashed, Doris married as a teenager and ended up striking out on her own, bringing young Marian to Toronto as a toddler.

Nana knew the value of hard work, and she worked a variety of jobs to provide for Marian, but then she landed a job as a waitress at Toronto's popular Bassel's Restaurant at Yonge and Gerrard. Her smarts caught the attention of Mr. Bassel, and he asked her to work in the office for him. At first she resisted, because she made good tip money as a waitress, but later she ended up managing Bassel's and many of his other business affairs. In all she was at Bassel's throughout its heyday and for over 30 years, retiring in the late 60's.

She moved up north to Larder Lake after retirement, where her sister Connie lived, but it was a difficult transition for her after so many years in the heart of the city, and she moved back down to a condo in Etobicoke. She returned to the work force as well, with several years at Pinkerton Security in payroll, as well as doing taxes for H&R Block. Even after retiring again, she found part time work to stay active.

Her talents went beyond the business world as well. An avid reader and learner, Nan excelled at dress-making, often copying the fancy outfits of the day; she would reminisce about nights on the town, and would always interject "...and I looked sharp!". She loved nothing more than to cook a fabulous meal for family and friends, and of course, she had access to all the secret recipes from Bassel's. Her baking and cooking were renowned; she always knew that you had room for just a little more.

She lived in her condo independently well into her nineties, until her health faded a bit, and her last few years were spent at Dufferin Oaks in Shelburne, where her family was close.

Doris was a strong, smart, loving and caring woman. She will be forever loved and missed by all who knew her.

The family would like to thank the staff of Dufferin Oaks in Shelburne for all their assistance in Doris's fading years, and thanks as well to the wonderful staff of The March of Dimes in Etobicoke, who helped us keep Doris in her own home when she first ran into her health difficulties. In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to the Princess Margaret Cancer Foundation so that they can continue their great work, or to a charity of your choice in Doris's memory.

Care entrusted to Jack and Thompson Funeral Home, Shelburne, ON Phone: (519) 925-2830

In loving memory of

Egan, Thomas Anthony

It is with profound sorrow that the family of Tom Egan announces his passing on Saturday, July 22, 2017, at the age of 64. He was at home surrounded by his wife Carol of 44 years and his children. Wonderful, loving father to Denise (Geoff) and grandchildren McKinnon, Paydon, Tegan and Colton; and son Tom (Lisa) and grandchildren Jesse, Ryan and Thomas. Predeceased by his parents Thomas and Rosina Egan, and sister Roseanne Egan. Survived by his sister Margaret (Randy), and brothers John (Ninetta), Terry and Robert. Loving brother-in-law to Paul McKinnon (Ann) and Joan Humby (Steve). Uncle to Matt and Jacob Bevan, Nicole, Michelle, Patrick, Renee, Michael Egan and Alex and Katie Bishop. Tom was so very proud of his community, serving on Town of Shelburne Council for 19 years to present, and was known for his honesty and integrity. Tom worked for Canadian Tire Acceptance for 24 years, and Ontario Lottery and Gaming for 17 years to present. He was a devoted member of the Kinsmen Club of Shelburne for over 20 years. A Celebration of Tom's life will be held on Thursday, July 27, 2017 at the Shelburne Legion, 203 William Street from 12:00 p.m. to 5:00 pm, with a memorial service to take place at 3:30 p.m. Condolences can be made to www.drivercremation.ca In lieu of flowers, please make a donation to a charity close to your heart. As Tom would always say, "It doesn't hurt to be nice. Cheers!"

In loving memory of
