Will Land Use Policy protect the Headwaters?

NDACT seeks response at AGM

BY MARNI WALSH

The North Dufferin Agricultural and Community Taskforce (NDACT), born from the mega quarry conflict, will continue their watch and focus on the Co-ordinated Land Use Planning Review Draft at the Annual General Meeting at Horning's Mills Community Centre on the evening of July 28.

"[It has been] ten years after beginning the fight against the mega quarry," says Karren Wallace, a former resident of Melancton where the conflict began, and a key player in the battle against the Highland Companies.

Town moves forward with new signage for Natasha Paterson Memorial Park

BY MICHELLE JANZEN

Eleven months after the tragic accident at the staging area of the Fiddleville parade, the newly named park will soon finally see the new signage promised to the parents of Natasha Paterson.

On August 8, 2015, twelve-year-old Natasha Paterson succumbed to her injuries after her beloved horse, Toby, reared up and both she and the horse fell. Subsequently, her father,

"And these lands are still not protected." Key legislation in the Land Use Policy is being reviewed, and that it is "the last chance to get it right for a long time."

"NDACT's position remains firm in our task for total protection for prime food producing lands in Ontario," says NDACT Chair Sylvia Boxem. "The Co-ordinated Land Use Planning Review Draft has some encouraging language in it with regards to agricultural assessments, as well as protection of watersheds. If watersheds obtain absolute protection, then the former quarry lands, being on top of an aquifer that feeds five river systems, would be in a proected area and the mandate of NDACT would be met."

The Review Draft is now open to public comment. To thoroughly understand the draft wording and submit an appropriate response to the government, the Taskforce has invited the Manager of the Coordinated Review process from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing, Victor Doyle, to give an overview of the proposed changes to the audience at the AGM.

Van Donation to help family of nine

BY MARNI WALSH

Mono refugee sponsorship group, First Line for Syria, has gratefully accepted the donation of a van to be given to one of Shelburne's new Canadian families the Al Diri's. The family includes mother, father and seven children very much in need of transportation.

The government-sponsored family arrived in Shelburne earlier this year. The children, all between five and twelve years of age, attended Hyland Heights School during the last term of the school year.

Wally Barr, a member of First Line for Syria, made up of three neighbouring families on the First Line of Mono, says their group came together with a "common mindset" last fall.

With an estimated nine million Syrians displaced since the war broke out in 2011, the group felt they could "do more than sit and watch the suffering of the biggest refugee crisis our world has ever encountered."

Together, the neighbours formed "First Line for Syria", a non-profit refugee sponsorship group determined to make a difference in the life of a Syrian family.

They officially launched their sponsorship campaign in October of 2015 and have since sponsored two families, one living in Shelburne and one in Orangeville.

The arrival of the family of nine in Shelburne has provided new friends and connections for First Line for Syria's sponsored family in Town, the Hussein-Aloosh family.

That family has made amazing progress according to the group, with their 17 year old daughter Helin enjoying learning and excelling in her studies at Centre Dufferin District High School.

The group continues to find "creative ways" for the new Canadians to "get to know their community and be a part of it."

Recently, Sabah, Helin's mother, "has been participating in local craft shows where she sells her finely detailed crocheted items."

First Line for Syria says there is much in the way of support that the community could offer to the Al Diri family, especially as they do not have a private sponsorship group to help them navigate.

The van has been safety tested, and the group says it is ready to transfer to Mohammad Al Diri when he gets his license.

"The family has seven children, so it will be a great help for them," says Wally. "In the meantime we'll use it to ferry people around to ESL (English as a Second Language) classes and shopping."

MPAC assessments coming starting July 25

BY MICHELLE JANZEN

At the July 11 Council meeting, Councillors were presented with the 2016 Assessment Update by Jon Hebden, Account Manager Municipal & Stakeholder Relations, who is with the Municipal Property Assessment Corporation (MPAC).

Residential property owners can expect to receive their Property Assessment Notices starting July 25, while Farm Property Assessment Notices will be mailed October 11. Multi-Residential and Business Notices follow, being mailed October 18.

MPAC is an independent not for profit corporation funded by every municipality in Ontario who is responsible for assessing and classifying more than five million properties in Ontario in compliance with the Assessment Act, and regulations set by the Government of Ontario.

To establish a property's assessed value, MPAC analyzes sales of comparable properties in the area and key features that affect market value. This approach, called Current Value Assessment, is used by most assessments in North America.

MPAC determines current value assessments and classifications for all of Ontario.

The Provincial Government passes legislation, sets assessment policies and determines education tax rates. The Province also operates an independent assessment appeal tribunal – the Assessment Review Board (ARB).

Based on these numbers, Municipalities determine revenue requirements, set municipal tax rates and collect property taxes to pay for your municipal services such as Police and Fire protection, roads, sidewalks, waste management as well as parks and leisure facilities for 2017 to 2020.

As of June 15, 2016 the residential market trends show that the median single family home in Ontario being worth $386,000. In Dufferin County that number is $405,000 with Shelburne's being $309,000. This is an increase in value in Dufferin County of $63,000 and in Shelburne of $20,000 since 2012.

Don't agree with your Assessment? There have been changes to filing a review (Bill 144), which states that residential property owners have 120 days from the Issue Date of their Property Assessment Notice to file a Request for Reconsideration, which will make the deadline November 22 for the Town of Shelburne.

If you still have any questions on your assessment notice, MPAC can be reached at 1-866-MPAC (6722) or online at www.mpac.ca.

Ottawa Journal: The Liberal Report Card – Summer 2016

BY DAVID TILSON, M.P.
DUFFERIN-CALEDON

Taking a look back at the Spring sitting of the House of Commons, a number of conclusions can be drawn about the Liberals' first months in power.

Even though we are not in a recession, the Liberals have stampeded headlong into deficit which taxpayers will have to pay for eventually. They are cozying up to Iran and Russia. They are playing hardball with Alberta, a province devastated by the world downturn in oil prices. In short, this is not the warm and fuzzy government many Canadians thought they were electing.

Despite his many campaign promises, Justin Trudeau has not reduced taxes for Canada's middle-class and Canadians know that this Liberal government does not promote policies that support Canadian families.

In fact, Justin Trudeau has betrayed Canada's middle-class by forcing future middle-class families to pay for the Liberals' $30 billion deficit. Measures include increasing taxes on middle-class families that enroll their children in sports and arts programs; demanding a CPP tax-hike that will cost families and small businesses thousands of dollars every year; ending the hiring credit for small businesses; keeping the small business tax rate at 10.5% instead of lowering it to the promised 9%; and forcing provinces and territories to adopt carbon emission policies that would cost families nearly $1,000 a year.

On the world stage, by rebranding their approach to foreign policy as "responsible conviction," Justin Trudeau and his Minister of Global Affairs claim that Canada is back on the international stage. In fact, the opposite is true.

They have abandoned our principled stand regarding Canada's steadfast support for Israel in order to go along to get along with Iran. By simply rebranding their "honest broker" position, the Liberals are further isolating our friend and ally, Israel, at a time when it needs our friendship the most.

Iran's state support of terrorism has been widely acknowledged. The Iranian regime has used terrorism as an essential component of its foreign policy and military strategy. Dealing with Iran is tantamount to irresponsible conviction.

Regarding China, Minister Dion failed to reprimand Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi's conduct towards a Canadian journalist during their joint news conference in Ottawa recently. Minister Dion's silence is an indictment of the Liberals new doctrine.

When given an opportunity to defend a basic principle of democracy such as freedom of the press, the Liberals preferred to stay silent, afraid to take a stand.

It is also deeply concerning the government continues to cozy up to Russia.

Vladimir Putin has indicated that he and Prime Minister Trudeau have discussed re-establishing "full relations." We must stand firm against the Russian invasion of Ukraine and annexation of Crimea. We must protect our Arctic sovereignty against Russian imperialism.

We must, like our US and European allies, support the Conservatives' Magnitsky Act, which would hold Russia's corrupt officials, murders and torturers to account.

Canadians remain perplexed by the government's refusal to vote in favour of our motion declaring that the atrocities committed by ISIS against minorities constitute genocide. US Secretary of State John Kerry, former US Secretary of State Hilary Clinton, the British Parliament and European Union Parliament have all been stating the obvious for months: ISIS' crimes are genocide.

It is unfortunate that the Liberals were so opposed to taking on the threat of ISIS that they were unwilling to accept reality and the magnitude of the atrocities being committed in the Middle East.

The Liberal decision to pull Canada's CF-18s out of the fight against ISIS and end our combat mission exemplified the government's naive approach to Canada's national security. At a time when our allies were increasing their efforts to destroy this barbaric terrorist organization, the Liberals pulled us out of the fight and shamefully allowed other nations to do the heavy lifting.

Local Perspective is Essential for Trillium Foundation

BY SYLVIA JONES, MPP
DUFFERIN-CALEDON

Dufferin-Caledon is home to many active not-for-profit organizations that provide unique cultural and social services in our community.

Many of these organizations have accessed Ontario Trillium Foundation (OTF) funds to offer unique programs and infrastructure.

For example: Theatre Orangeville recently received a $100,000 grant from Trillium to modernize their lighting system at the Orangeville Opera House. Other local organizations like Caledon Meals on Wheels, the Orangeville Blues and Jazz Fest, the Caledon Cycling Club, Caledon Community Services and the Island Lake Community Trails Project, have received funding from the OTF.

Needless to say, the funding from the OTF has provided great benefit to people in Dufferin-Caledon and across Ontario.

The OTF relies on Grant Review Teams that are comprised of local volunteers who provide local knowledge and insight in order to ensure that grants meet a community's needs. Unfortunately, the Government has allowed increasing number of vacancies to accumulate in Dufferin and Caledon's Grant Review Teams.

Only thirteen of nineteen review team positions are filled in Waterloo-Wellington-Dufferin, while seventeen of twenty positions are filled in Halton-Peel. Despite these vacancies there is only one member in the regional review teams for the Town of Caledon.

To make matters worse, I am aware of numerous well qualified individuals who are willing to volunteer and fill these vacancies, but have been waiting for over a year to hear back about their application.

This lack of action to fill the vacancies is even more concerning given that representation will be further minimized if the proposed changes to the number of Grant Review Teams occur.

Currently there are 16 review teams across the province. Under the proposed changes, that number would be reduced to 5. By reducing the number of regions, there will be fewer local voices and less local knowledge provided when approving a grant for a local community initiative. This is precisely the opposite of what communities like Dufferin and Caledon need.

I have written to the CEO of the Ontario Trillium Foundation calling on her "to stop pursuing the 'regionally based model' and improve the process for filling vacancies to ensure local representation is maintained."

If you agree, I encourage you to email or write to the Ontario Trillium Foundation. If you have any questions or want help contacting the OTF do not hesitate to contact my office at sylvia.jonesco@pc.ola.org or 1-800-265-1603.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader thanks police for show of respect

I'm writing this letter to the Editor on a show of respect. My father, Carman Doney, recently passed away, and my family would like to first thank all the people who stopped their cars while he was on his last journey. That is a show of respect, but the thing that brought tears to our eyes was the respect from the new officer of the Shelburne Police Department. He led us out to the cemetery, got out of his car and saluted my dad and whole possession.

You just don't see that for the ordinary person.

Signage chosen to look like perfect fit in Natasha's memorial park

Designs presented to Council earlier this month

Duncan Paterson, advocated for a public memorial to remember his only child so that she will never be forgotten.

On March 7, Mr. Paterson's efforts were realised when Council decided to name a portion of Hyland Park "Natasha Paterson Memorial Park", while also approving a pavilion located in the park, which will also be dedicated to her memory.

Council originally thought it would be best to wait until after construction of the pavilion so as not to interfere and possibly face erecting the new signage twice.

After many correspondences with Council,

PHOTO COURTESY OF THE TOWN OF SHELBURNE Mr. Paterson put pressure on local lawmakers to come to a decision before the anniversary of his daughter's death.

Councillor Walter Bennoto and CEO John Telfer, was arranged to determine exactly where to place the new signage.

"The location that Mr. Paterson is requesting is near the playground equipment located on Gordon Street, which will not interrupt with construction and I feel it is safe for us to proceed at this time," said Mayor Bennington at the July 11 Council meeting.

Several quotes with mock up drawings were submitted to council for consideration and with quotes coming in at $4,022.80, $7,229 and $9,638.21, it was discussed and decided that the Town of Shelburne will split the cost up to a total of $3,614.00, which is half of the median quote.

After the decision, Mr. Paterson secured the rock he and his wife have chosen to be the sign. When speaking to Mr. Paterson, he tells the Shelburne Free Press "We choose this rock as we feel that it is very natural looking and will look as if it has always been a part of the park."

The Town also is requesting to facilitate the placing of the stone as well as to have approval on the final design.

A Great Way To Support Local Business

Your Local Community Newspaper.

There's no better place to catch up on the local news, events, and whats going on in your local town, than the local community Newspaper Shelburne Free Press. Established in 1875 as the only community newspaper in Shelburne at that time.

Competition arose when in 1883 a young entrepreneur from Markham came to Shelburne and created his own independent newspaper called the "Economist". Local Shelburnites were up in arms as the Free Press being a totally conservative newspaper they didn't want this out of townner taking over with a reformist opposing company!. So a few locals raised some money and borrowed money, and re-opened the free press hiring the local High School principle named Mortimer as Publisher and editor.

The Free Press thrived and when Mortimer died in in the 1920's his widow continued until a young man who happened to be the publisher of the Economist by the name of T.F.E Claridge (and he was only ever know by his initials) bought the Free Press and amalgamated the 2 which was known as the Free Press & Economist until 2010. New owner Ray Stanton bought the Newspaper and a revamping of the name dropped the Economist and we were renamed.

The newspaper has grown and increased circulation and will continue to do so whilst our one horse town continues to grow and to thrive. The friendly staff at the Main street office, will welcome you Monday to Friday 9-3pm, and not forgetting everybody involved with putting this newspaper on the street behind the scenes, the production department in Bolton, the freelancers, the photographers, the editor, the new publisher (watch this space for that!)

Remember we couldn't do it without you the public, we rely on you to tell us whats going on, to inform us of events, to read our paper and keep us alive as we are today. The support from everybody is incredible and we plan on staying around for the next century, so watch this space people!!!!

All of us at the Free Press would like to extend our thanks for the ongoing support and welcome you any time at our offices, or feel free to call us if you have a letter to the editor, a story, or even a complaint, we are there to talk to you at 519 925 2832.

Winners of Shelburne Police Bike Safety Campaign announced at Dufferin Mutual Insurance

Every year, Shelburne Police hosts a bicycle safety campaign designed to help promote the use of helmets and safe cycling.

During the month of June, Shelburne Police watch for children riding their bikes in a safe manner and wearing helmets.

The officers then enter these safe young cyclists into a draw for a new bike.

Every year on July 1 during the Shelburne Canada Day Festivities, one boy's name and one girl's name are drawn to win a new bike.

The bikes are sponsored every year by Dufferin Mutual Insurance Company.

This year the winner of the boy's bike is four-year-old Liam Ward, and the winner of the girl's bike is eleven-year-old Madison Ricci. Congratulations to both!

Shelburne Police thank Dufferin Mutual Insurance Company for their on-going support for this safety campaign.

Shelburne Police remind all cyclists to wear a helmet, and ride safely!

SHELBURNE POLICE & MTO CONDUCT COMMERCIAL VEHICLE SAFETY BLITZ

Shelburne Police, together with MTO Enforcement Officers, conducted a commercial vehicle safety blitz on Tuesday, July 12.

The one-day blitz resulted in 21 heavy truck inspections being conducted.

A total of six charges were laid.

One truck had its plates seized. Four charges were laid in relation to vehicle maintenance issues, one in regards to the driver's condition to operate a heavy truck, and the final charge in regards to administrative issues.

Shelburne Police is reminding everyone to put safety first when driving a vehicle.

Whether operating a car, a motorcycle, a heavy truck, or any other vehicle; safety must be the top priority. This includes always driving sober and undistracted, but also not driving when overly tired, and always ensuring every vehicle is properly maintained serviced year-round.

OPP URGE CAUTION AROUND CONSTRUCTION ZONES

During the past week, the Traffic Unit of the Nottawasaga Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) has been focusing on our area construction zones.

The warm weather of summer brings with it the need to take advantage of the opportunity to do road repairs. Normal speed limits are reduced for the safety of the workers and fines are increased in these areas when workers are present.

Over the past two days, officers of the Nottawasaga Detachment Traffic Unit have laid 25 charges in one particular construction zone alone. The strip of County Road 50 between Athlone and 5 Sideroad is a posted 60 KM zone, and signs state that fines are doubled when workers are present.

On Wednesday, July 13, one motorist was charged with doing 99 KM in the posted 60 KM zone. The fine for this offence is $578.00 with a loss of four demerit points.

Motorists are reminded to be alert when driving through construction zones due to workers and equipment being present. Speeding in these areas puts the lives of workers at risk.

Senior Cubs post double loss in Sunday games

BY BRIAN LOCKHART

The Mansfield Senior Cubs had some shining moments on Sunday afternoon, July 17, on the diamond in Mansfield when they hosted two games, but they didn't come out on the plus side.

The first game of the afternoon saw the Midland Indians in town for a 2 p.m. start.

After getting into trouble in the early going, the Cubs got the bats moving in the sixth inning when they let loose and recorded eight runs for the frame.

Although they had a huge inning, it wasn't enough to catch the visitors and they had to settle for an 11-8 loss in that game.

The second game of the afternoon got underway against the Bolton Dodgers with a 5 p.m. start.

The Dodgers got off to on the right foot in the first inning with a hit to the right field fence for a double, followed up with another nice hit that drove in the first run of the game.

A line drive down the third base line brought in two more runs to give the Dodgers an early 3-0 lead.

The Cubs couldn't keep a man in base in their first at-bat.

The Bolton squad had another good inning in the third starting out with a ground rule double and a huge hit to the left field fence that brought in three more runs.

Jess Ragazzon led off the Mansfield bats in the third inning with a single to right field. That led the Cubs loading the bases but they couldn't capitalize and the side retired before they could score.

The Mansfield defence did a good job of shutting down the Bolton team in the fourth inning, taking out three batters and ending the inning on a fly to fielder Brad Pendleton.

The Cubs got on the scoreboard in the fourth inning with bases loaded and a batter getting the walk on the fourth ball.

The game ended with a 7-2 win for the Dodgers.

The Cubs will play their final regular season game this coming Sunday, July 24, on the diamond at Mansfield when they host the Creemore Barons.

The first pitch is scheduled for 5 p.m.

Bantam Outlaws in good position for playoffs

BY BRIAN LOCKHART

The Orangeville Outlaws Bantam team are still in second place in the Ontario Minor Football League standings after a game that was recorded as a tie over the weekend.

The Bantams travelled to Beeton on Sunday, July 17, for a scheduled game against the TNT Express who are currently listed as being in third place in the seven team division.

However, the game never took place.

With two full teams in attendance and a sideline filled with fans, only one thing was missing - the referees.

The game had been rescheduled to a different time slot earlier in the week and teams were notified. The referees, on the other hand, were not notified of the change and were expecting to be at the field for a 3 p.m. start.

The game was cancelled rather than have both teams and spectators wait for another two hours in the hot sun and the result was recorded as a tie with one point being awarded to each team.

The Outlaws now have 13 points and a 6-1-1 record for the season.

The Clarington Knights are in first place going undefeated for the season with eight wins behind them.

As it stands, the Outlaws should meet the TNT Express in the semi-final with Clarington taking on the North Bay Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs have a 5-3 record for the season.

The Toronto Jets, Hamilton Varsity Tiger-cats and the Cambridge Lions did not make the cut for the playoffs.

In other divisions, the Orangeville Junior Varsity squad is also doing well with a second place in the standings and a 6-1 record.

The Orangeville Varsity team had only one win this season despite playing well. They have one more game as the division - which only had three teams entered this year - goes into a playoff situation.

Christian Perspective: Can we misinterpret the word of God?

BY PASTOR DON HUME
CROSSROADS COMMUNITY CHURCH

“Can we misinterpret the word of God?” We are human, so the answer would be, sure we do. Our well-meaning quotes from scripture, or should I say our part or portion of scriptures, we tend to say in conversations each day.

For example, “God will never give you more than you can handle.”

Most times, you are saying this part of scripture when a fellow Christian is going through tough times. The gesture was good, but the message given was only in part. In fact, it has not given them valuable instruction. Instead given them a completely different meaning of the scripture in 1Corinthians 10:13.

This portion of scripture is specifically talking about temptations.

The misconception of 1Corinthians 10:13, is thinking that it is a promise from God that He won't have us face troubles we can't handle. He will allow us to go through hard times, and face temptations that we can't handle on our own! The true promise to hold on to and share in this portion of scripture is that in the midst of those trials HE will always be with us.

Now, let's look at another misinterpreted quote we often use: Romans 8:28, “And we know that God causes all things to work together for the good to those who love God, to those who are called according to His purpose.”

Once again, this scripture must be taken in whole not in part. In this life we all are going to face illness; we as believers in God and those that “love God” are not exempt from these things. We all need to remember that this world is not our home. We are only here for a short time, and in this world we will face hardships.

In John 16:33, scripture tells us, “You will have trouble.” This is the truth, we cannot escape trouble. We live in a sinful world and, as believers, we will have trouble. But again, if we read on in this portion of scripture, “I (Jesus) have overcome the world.” We can never be reminded enough that we as believers are only here for a time, and that our minds should always be focused on spending our eternity with God instead of wanting the next quick fix from all our worldly woes, we can so easily act in the instant fix mentality.

We are always looking for encouragement and can find it in several ways: a note from a friend, devotional, and even in prayer. If we are all honest with ourselves the need to have encouragement in a stressful time, grief, or to just deal with life in general, is daily. The most important thing for us to remember is that reading or hearing these things is not enough. We need to claim each verse in its entirety and make it our own, apply it and believe it. For, if not in its entirety could, it lead to misquoting and misinterpreting scripture.

So, let's look at this another way: say you are having company over and are making chili. You have put in the beans, peppers, meat, tomatoes, onions, and even some mushrooms. Sounds good, right? But wait, these are just the minor ingredients; until we add the chili powder it never becomes chilly.

Truth! As much like we can do with the word of God, misconstruing a portion of scripture takes the power out of the word of God. You could say that the authority and influence have been left out. When we ignore the context of God's word, we lose the reason we go to the bible in the first place: to get God's truth and apply it to our lives.

Be encouraged, read each scripture verse and read it in its full context, and by doing this you should be able to properly interpret the message and the meaning. Remembering to do otherwise takes away from God's word.

The link below maybe of help to you on interpreting meanings in the Bible:

TEEN SUMMER READING CHALLENGE

We are now officially into the second week of the #splteensummerreadingchallenge and we are seeing firsthand the energy and creativity of our Teen members.

Last week, we had a very exciting round of Hunger Games Monopoly where the odds were NOT in everyone's favour, and we also created beautiful travel boards which highlighted the destinations to which we have travelled, as well as those we want to visit, but have yet to experience!

We started this week with a visit from Rosie and Jamie of Shine Bakery, where we learned about gluten-free vegan baking and cupcake decorating. Have you ever heard of a flaxseed egg? Neither had we until Rosie demonstrated it for us! You'll have to drop by the market and ask her about it.

We look forward to a stiff minute-to-win-it competition day this week and the much anticipated Escape Room challenge this Thursday, July 21, at 6 p.m. Teams of five or less can book their 15-minute escape room appointment at the minute-to-win-it competition. It's going to be a

We are just filling up our shelves with so many new books that we don't have room to shelve them all. Come in and check them...I mean that seriously – in both ways. We have some great reads and are featuring quite a few at Rose's Book Club next Thursday, July 28 @ 2:00 pm.

Melancthon begins new tradition with 163rd anniversary

BY MARNI WALSH

Residents of Melancthon Township gathered at Horning's Mills Community Park last month to begin a new annual tradition as they celebrated the 163rd birthday of their rural municipality.

Organized by the Horning's Mills Park Board, the simple, but favoured country itinerary of an outdoor barbeque, ice cream, good music and fireworks made for a family friendly celebration to mark the occasion.

"Volunteers pulled together to create a memorable night for families, friends and neighbours with a spectacular fireworks display generously donated by the Township," said Board member Councillor Jim Webster.

Melancthon Mayor Darren White said he was very pleased with the event.

"It's great to see these type of community-building events coming back to our township after the turmoil of the last number of years," he said.

Melancthon residents were torn apart over the Highland Companies' American hedge fund bid for an open pit mine on prime farm and source water land between 2006 and 2012.

The company's application was finally denied by the Province after a long and hard fought battle led by the North Dufferin Agricultural and Community Taskforce (NDACT). NDACT gave rise to its widely recognized legacy movement Food and Water First.

"This first annual event was a roaring success and marks the start of a new tradition for our small but vibrant community," said Councillor Webster. It provides a much needed gathering for our residents to get together and be proud of what we have here in Melancthon.

"Admission was free for over two hundred people who gathered on lawn chairs and picnic blankets, entertained by the country western sounds of talented local performers Gary Heaslip and Kristin Scott.

"While kids played and neighbours socialized, a barbecue and other refreshments raised funds for the Community Park and future events. At dusk, all were dazzled by an impressive array of brilliant fireworks set off by volunteers Troy Gallimore and Tom Thayer."

Councillor Webster extended: "Warm thanks to the many volunteers and residents who supported this event with their hard work, attendance, and donations."

"The volunteers did an amazing job," added Mayor White, "I look forward to a bigger and better event next year for this annual celebration of Melancthon Township's birthday."

Project Name: Dufferin Wind Power Project
Project Location (municipalities): Melancthon, Shelburne and Amaranth in the County of Dufferin, Ontario
Dated at: The County of Dufferin, July 18, 2016
IESO Reference #: F-000661-WIN-130-601
EBR Registry Number: 011-7852

A Renewable Energy Approval (REA) application was made to the Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change (MOECC) in August 2012 and the Dufferin Wind Power Project was subsequently issued a REA on June 10, 2013. The REA was subsequently amended to accommodate changes to the locations of temporary building to the project location. These changes were approved through an amendment to the approval issued on October 9, 2014.

Dufferin Wind Power Inc. is now proposing a temporary amendment to allow for the testing of new and more efficient software control technology on two of its existing turbines, T24 and T27 (i.e. T2.09 and T4.10 respectively under the new turbine numbering system). The new software solution has been developed to allow for higher power output without significant changes to the original turbine noise characteristics. This is achieved primarily by increasing the gearbox torque while maintaining the rotor tip speed. Additionally, the new technology allows the GE turbines to run with a blade pitch schedule that optimizes the balance of noise and power. The changes to the turbine control software system are fully automated and are an integral part of turbine operations. As confirmed with the MOECC, this temporary amendment is classified as a "Technical Change". This Notice is being distributed in accordance with Section 16.0.1 of the Regulation.

Project Description:
Pursuant to the Act and Regulation, the facility, in respect of which this project is to be engaged in, is a wind energy project and is rated as a Class 4 Wind Facility with a name plate capacity of 91.4 MW. The wind farm components are located entirely in the Township of Melancthon. The transmission line for the project passes through the Township of Melancthon, the Town of Shelburne and connects to the Provincial grid in the Township of Amaranth.

Description of Project Design Changes to the REA Application:
Dufferin Wind Power Inc. would like to temporarily amend the REA approval to allow for the testing of new General Electric (GE) software technology at Turbines T24 (approved at 1.388 MW) and T27 (approved at 1.6 MW). This new software technology should result in higher wind power generation for the facility while resulting in little or no increase in receptor noise levels. The turbines will operate at slightly higher generation rates (1.41 MW and 1.7 MW, respectively) while their noise emissions are monitored. The results of the turbine testing and noise emission monitoring will be summarized in a report and will be submitted to the MOECC for review. The testing of the wind turbine control software and noise emission monitoring is expected to take up to three months to ensure that testing at various wind speeds can be completed. No changes are proposed to the location of project components, and all components will remain in their existing locations.

Documents for Public Inspection:
Further to this Notice, details of the proposed changes can be found in the Modifications Document for the Dufferin Wind Power Project (dated June 2016), which is posted on the Project website at: <http://www.dufferinwindpower.ca>. A hard copy can be viewed at the Project Office located at 705357 County Road 21, Melancthon, ON L9V 2A3.
