Policing woes

Dear editor:

We should be ashamed of ourselves, subjecting our underpaid, overwhelmed police officers to such poor disfunctioning headquarters.

There's no room to separate the hoards of suspects from the witnesses. And those consultants, suggesting they only need $2 to $4 million? Are they crazy?

Who cares? Let's all go broke. I'm also pretty sure that the Shelburne Police headquarters are almost never open in the evenings.

Coming soon, more land transfer tax, to sell your house.

See you in the soup line.

David Carter,

Shelburne
