Shelburne Police lay 56 charges over Thanksgiving weekend

With three major highways (Highway 10, 89 and County 124) all intersecting in Shelburne, long weekends tend to be very busy for traffic enforcement for Shelburne Police. Thanksgiving long weekend was no different.

In total, Shelburne Police laid 56 traffic related charges on Thanksgiving weekend. The breakdown of the traffic charges is 41 speeding violations, 8 insurance related violations, 2 stop sign violations, 2 document violations, 1 turning violation, and 1 seatbelt violation. In addition during a R.I.D.E. spot check on the Saturday night, a Shelburne woman was charged criminally for refusing to provide a breath sample when demanded by police. Further, three motor vehicle collisions were investigated.

Shelburne Police encourages all drivers to take the privilege of driving a motor vehicle seriously, and make safety the top priority at all times.

If anyone has any information in relation to this case or any other criminal activity, they are encouraged to contact the Shelburne Police Service at 519-925-3312, or anonymously through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477), or online at www.crimestopperssdm.com
