

Traffic stop results in drug charges

On Thursday February 19th, a Shelburne Police officer was monitoring traffic movement through the traffic lights at the intersection of Main Street East and County Road 124.

At approximately 7 a.m. a motor vehicle failed to stop at the intersection as the light was turning amber and red resulting in the officer pulling that vehicle over.

When the officer approached the vehicle another offence was revealed. This resulted in a road side drug investigation to commence. As a result a small quantity of marijuana was seized and 47 year old Russell Jones of Mulmur was arrested and charged with Possession of a Controlled Substance.

The accused was released on an appearance notice with a court date in March.
