Henry the Hiker takes his aspirations to Camino Frances

Written By PAULA BROWN
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

A local youth has returned home after seven weeks of putting one foot in front of the other to complete an ancient pilgrimage hike in Europe.

Henry Little, 12, known locally as Henry the Hiker, has completed his biggest hiking challenge to date, a nearly 800-kilometre hike of the Camino de Santiago in Spain.

The Camino de Santiago is a hiking route consisting of many different trail networks. Throughout the Middle Ages, thousands of pilgrims walked from their homes to make the journey to the cathedral in Santiago de Compostela eventually paving the way for the more than 200 recognized routes across Europe that arrive together in the city.

Henry, along with his mother Carola Little, started the hike on April 6 in Saint-Jean-Pied-de-Port, France the gateway to the Camino Frances, commonly known as the French Way, which is the most famous of the Camino de Santiago routes.

The ancient pilgrimage trail spans nearly 800 kilometres across northern Spain, starting in the town of Saint-Jean-Pied-de-Port in France and ending in the sacred city of Santiago de Compostela, where it is believed the remains of St. James are held. Henry and Carola completed the trek on May 25 in Santiago de Compostela, Spain, having walked a total of 603 kilometres of the 779-kilometre trail.

"It was exciting, tiring and hard, but it also felt like a rhythm," recalled Henry. "Every day we'd get up and walk and after a while, you zone out; I was just sailing along."

When asked about his favourite part of the journey, Henry recalls their second day of the trip when they reached the highest point on the pass over of the Pyrenees Mountains and entered into Spain.

"We were 10 kilometres into the hike and we got on top of this mountain and it looked like we were on top of the clouds," said Henry. "It really felt like you were in heaven."

The duo started the hike by walking roughly 20 kilometres a day and eventually scaled down their daily treks to between 10 and 15 kilometres. In total, they averaged roughly four to five hours of walking each day.

Prior to leaving on the trip, Henry trained with Tyler Harron, a fitness trainer with Trainer Games in Shelburne. The duo trained together twice a week, focusing on compound lifting exercises for strength and high-intensity interval training for cardio.

While physically prepared for the long journey, the hardest part of the hike came down to mental strength.

Fireworks, Canada Day celebrations coming to Shelburne

Written By PAULA BROWN
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

The Town of Shelburne is looking to celebrate Canada Day with a bang.

The public is invited to take part in a day filled with fun, entertainment and community spirit as the Town of Shelburne gears up to host its annual Canada Day festivities on July 1.

"This year's Canada Day Committee and town staff have been working extra hard to make the event fun for the whole family," said Shelburne Coun. Len Guchardi, a council representative on the Town's Canada Day Committee.

"We hope to see everyone join us in celebrating the many facets of what makes Canada the best place in the world to live, work and play."

Residents can kick off their Canada Day celebrations at the Shelburne Legion, located at 203 William Street, which will be hosting a hearty patriotic-themed breakfast from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Price List:

- $10: three pancakes with three sausages and three pieces of bacon
- $8: two pancakes with two sausages and two pieces of bacon
- $6: one pancake with one sausage and one piece of bacon

The breakfast meal will be free for veterans. The festivities will then move along to the Centre Dufferin Recreation Complex (CDRC), located at 200 Fiddle Park Lane, where families can take part in an afternoon of fun with a free public swim. The free public swim will go from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and is sponsored by Tim Hortons.

As the sun sets, the Town of Shelburne's Canada Day Committee has organized hours of entertainment at Greenwood Park.

The event will begin at 6 p.m. with an opening ceremony that will include remarks from Shelburne Mayor Wade Mills, Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones and Dufferin-Caledon MP Kyle Seeback.

Family activities such as bubble soccer, face painting, balloon twisting, inflatable attractions and Minion character meet and greets will go from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. A magic show starting at 7 p.m. will feature Magic Wij and promises to bring an interactive performance for all ages.

The day of festivities will come to a close around 9:30 p.m. when the Town of Shelburne puts on a spectacular fireworks display.

Admission to the events at Greenwood Park is free.

The Town of Shelburne is asking residents to remember that on-site parking at Greenwood Park is limited. Attendees are encouraged to walk or bike to Greenwood Park to

Shelburne Town Council hears County's plan on community safety

Written By PAULA BROWN
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

Shelburne Town Council has been informed of the County of Dufferin's four-year plan to address community safety and well-being.

During their meeting on Monday, June 23, Shelburne Town Council received a presentation from Brenda Wagner, on behalf of the Dufferin Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan (CSWBP) Integration Table, regarding the 2025-2028 Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan.

Serving all municipalities in Dufferin County, the four-year plan is mandated under the Community Safety and Policing Act.

"What the province suggested is we focus on risk and protective factors, which we have done throughout. We also leverage community resources around this," said Wagner.

The development of the Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan began in early 2024 with data collection, which included a general community survey that saw over 600 responses. The data collection was followed by monthly meetings of the Integration Table, a group consisting of over 30 local agencies, and the completion of a draft plan in April.

"The plan is strength-based. It highlights what we are already doing well in identifying risks and looking for way to integrate with partnerships," explained Wagner.

The Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan highlights five areas of priority: community safety, housing and homelessness, mental health and wellbeing, family support, and food security.

Community Safety:

In the community safety area, the Integration Table heard about residents' raised concerns with opioids (mainly fentanyl), auto thefts, an increase in violent crimes like intimate partner violence, and growing road and mobility safety issues such as speed.

Wagner noted that while the perception from the community was that these types of crimes were on the rise, the data did not support a rise.

"If the Dufferin OPP and detachment board with support from community safety well-being partners continue to share information and engage with the public, we expect that the community will better understand local crime and available programs so people feel safer," said Wagner. "If government continues to invest in road infrastructure and traffic calming technologies – for example, speed enforcement – we expect that increases in traffic anticipated from the growing population will be better accommodated so mobility safety will improve."

Housing and Homelessness:

Housing and homelessness were one of the areas with the most attention, specifically increased shelter use, encampments, and lack of affordable housing.

According to the report, Dufferin County experienced 12 encampments with 14 people, mostly located in the Town of Orangeville, in 2024. Service interventions resulted in the number being reduced to one encampment with two people.

Connected to affordable housing, the report showed that only 50 per cent of households in the County of Dufferin can afford the average and that there are currently 670 applicants for the Housing Access Dufferin Centralized Waiting List, with an average wait of five years.

"The focus really here is to advocate for the housing solutions we need, engage developers for affordable housing, improve service coordination and enhance public awareness," said Wagner.

Mental Health and Well-being:

The area of priority was a part of Dufferin's first Community Safety and Well-being Plan and was continued into the 2025-2028 plan.

According to results from the CSWB Survey, approximately 18 per cent of respondents rated their mental health as fair or poor, which is similar to the 2020 results. The survey also saw that roughly 1 in 3 Dufferin youth report low resilience and 25 per cent report not seeking professional support for a mental health concern when it was needed.

"It's about defining mental health for the community, promoting building resilience, improved data collection on service usage and effectiveness, and focussing as well on youth mental health and evaluation of future needs," said Wagner about the 2025-2028 plans focus.

Family Support:

This area of priority is new to the Community Safety and Well-being Plan.

While the majority of respondents to the CSWB Survey strongly agreed or agreed that they have people in their lives to support them, the survey did show that one-third of them struggle to access services and programs. The most commonly reported reason was due to a lack of service awareness and accessibility.

To address access, the County plans to have local organizations continue to build a family-centred care model, create service awareness campaigns, consider the neighbourhood support network model and establish grassroots parent outreach programs.

Food Security:

Studies show that roughly 23 per cent of households in the Wellington, Dufferin and Guelph communities are food insecure.

Individuals most at risk of facing food insecurity include, low-income households, renters, BIPOC and other cultural/racial groups, female-led lone-parent households, and homes reliant on income support.

To address food insecurity the County of Dufferin plans to use the Dufferin County

Food Insecurity Needs Assessment to inform regional planning as well as advocate for income-based solutions and expand programs such as school food service and community growing/meals.

"If members of the Dufferin Food Access Subcommittee take action by gathering more local data and facilitating groups to work together, we expect that programs and conditions will improve so that people experiencing food insecurity in Dufferin will have better access to food they need as well as social and community connectedness," said Wagner.

The 2025-2028 Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan was officially approved by Dufferin County Council in May. An annual update on the progress of the Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan is expected to be released each June.

The entirety of the 2025-2028 Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan can be found on the County of Dufferin website.

OPINION

Canada Day

It will be our nation's birthday celebration in just under a week.

This is a day to celebrate your country, your culture and heritage, and revel in what has been accomplished in the past, and what will be accomplished in the future.

It is astounding to realize how much of North America has evolved and changed in just 200 years.

During most centuries in history, you would live your entire life and see no change at all.

But we have built huge cities, highways, railroads, created hydroelectric power, and connected a country from sea to sea to sea, that is larger than all of Europe, in a very short period of time.

Our forefathers did an excellent job of forging a nation that only a few years earlier had largely been almost 1 million square kilometers of undeveloped land, and creating what is now one of the most successful countries on the planet.

No matter what you accomplish, there is always that one person who will point out a negative.

I had a friend who had never learned the concept of giving a compliment — ever.

If you just spent two days painting the entire interior of your house, she would be the one who would come over, look around, and point to a place on the wall and say, "you missed a spot."

Our forefathers were not perfect. However, they worked hard for the benefit of the nation.

A few years ago, it became popular to criticize the first Prime Minister, Sir John A. Macdonald, because he had involvement in the start of the residential school system.

Some buildings and streets were renamed, and the current 'woke' culture started broadcasting what an evil monster he was.

Of course in our phony 'woke' times, no one would point out the good things he did, because they knew if they spoke in his favour, they would be labeled a 'fascist' or 'nazi.' So the mainstream media went along with the Macdonald bashing.

In his early days, Macdonald became a lawyer and for a brief time, served in the local militia during the Rebellion of 1837.

He began his political career as an Alderman in Kingston. In 1844, he was elected to be a representative in what was then, the Province of Canada.

Macdonald rose through the ranks of government, taking on several important positions over the years.

By the late 1850s, the concept of breaking from colonial rule and creating a nation of its own started to take shape.

In October 1864, delegates for Confederation met in Quebec City for the Quebec Conference, where they agreed to the Seventy-Two Resolutions, the basis of the first constitution.

A new nation was declared on July 1, 1867, and Macdonald was appointed the first Prime Minister.

He faced a lot of troubling issues during his first year as Prime Minister.

Macdonald decided that westward expansion, right to the Pacific Ocean, would be the fate of the new nation.

His political career fell apart at one point, and people thought he was done as a politician.

However, he made a successful comeback and was elected to a third term.

Macdonald served as Prime Minister for nearly 19 years, and in polls, has consistently been ranked as one of the greatest prime ministers in Canadian history.

BRIAN LOCKHART
FROM THE SECOND ROW

Macdonald and his contemporaries had the herculean task of creating an entirely new nation.

They provided the foundation where citizens have documented freedoms and the ability to choose who will run the country through free elections.

It is this early history of our country that decided the fate of the nation and what we have today.

Along with the pioneering spirit of the early settlers who forged ahead into wild territory and created the mills and farms where there had been nothing before, a great nation was born.

This Canada Day, don't just wear the red and white T-shirt and have a hot dog at a local celebration, take a few moments to reflect on the work and sacrifice that went into building this nation.

That hard work, dedication, and sacrifice paved the way for your current lifestyle, your freedom to travel, gather, and speak freely, and determine who represents you in municipal, provincial, and federal government.

Iran: Much ado about nothing

I don't get a lot of face-time with Donald Trump, but his rant on Tuesday in front of the chopper that was to take him to the airport and on to the NATO summit in Brussels was the first time I heard him say 'fuck' in front of live microphones — and it was clearly about Binyamin Netanyahu.

It took Trump a long time to realise that he has been played by the Israeli prime minister, but he was clearly having a moment of clarity. It won't last, because he cannot bear the idea that he was outsmarted, but in the moment he was absolutely churning with rage.

"Israel, as soon as we made the deal (the ceasefire), they came out and they dropped a load of bombs the likes of which I've never seen before, the biggest load that we've seen," Trump said. "I'm not happy with Israel."

Well, surprise! Netanyahu was counting on weeks or months of bombing Iran alongside his American pals, not only to permanently degrade the country's economy but also to distract international public attention from what he is doing to the Palestinians in Gaza.

Further Trumpish unhappiness may follow. The Iranians, if they wished, could now simply agree with Trump's foolish boast that Iran's three key nuclear sites were "completely and fully obliterated" by the 14 'Massive Ordnance Penetrator' bombs that American B-2 bombers dropped on the sites on June 22.

If Iran's 60 per cent-enriched uranium (about 400 kg of it) really was in those tunnels ninety metres underground, it's still probably intact: the preliminary U.S. intelligence assessment is that last Saturday's bombing would not have eliminated it. But it was probably no longer in the tunnels at all, since the Iranians are not fools.

If the Iranians did get it all away to other hiding places scattered around the country in the ten days between Trump's first threats and the arrival of the B-2s, Iran can now use it as collateral in a deal that puts all the country's uranium back under International Atomic Energy Agency safeguards in return for an end to sanctions.

The easiest thing would be simply to revive the 2015 deal that limited Iran's enrichment of uranium to 3.67 per cent, suitable only for power plants. Iran was fully open to inspection and the deal was working to everybody's satisfaction until Donald Trump tore it up on a whim in 2018. Iran would be glad to have it back, since the sanctions have crippled the economy.

The problem will be changing the deal just enough to avoid offending Trump's vanity, while not changing it so much that it loses credibility in the eyes of the other signatories. Since Trump rarely reads the small print closely, just changing the words around while retaining the meaning would probably be enough to persuade him that he is signing a new and better deal.

As a sweetener, if necessary, they could arrange for Trump to 'win' the Nobel Peace Prize he has obsessed about ever since Barack Obama got one. It costs nothing and it's not worth much anymore, but it's the sort of trinket that would appeal to the U.S. president.

In the meantime the ceasefire probably will hold because neither Iran nor the United States has anything to gain from a direct clash and Trump has probably now learned not to let Netanyahu use the US Air Force in his wars. This will draw the focus back to Israel's brutal attempt to drive all 2.1 million Palestinians out of the Gaza Strip, but that is a separate issue.

So what have we learned from this disagreeable but ultimately non-disastrous episode? The first lesson, obviously, is that limiting access to the ear of Trump 2.0 is critical. Letting people like Binyamin Netanyahu and Vladimir Putin whisper in it is just asking for trouble, and the grown-ups in Trump's entourage should provide a constant flow of alternative diversions.

Secondly, you can trust the Iranian regime, nasty though it is, not to let itself be drawn into truly dangerous confrontations with the United States. Its low-key, largely symbolic responses to American attacks were a model of self-control. And by the way, the US intelligence services are still right: there is no Iranian nuclear weapons programme.

Most important, understand that the White House has become the Palace of Versailles. Donald Trump is Louis XIV, the Sun King, and the currency, as in most royal courts, is relentless, gushing flattery. The recent tweet of Mark Rutte, head of NATO, should be your model

"Mr. President, dear Donald: Congratulations and thank you for your decisive action in Iran, that was truly extraordinary, and something no one else dared to do. It makes us all safer. Donald, you have driven us to a really, really important moment for America and Europe, and the world."

Icky, but necessary.

Monthly Message: Transitional Support Services available at Family Transition Place

Family Transition Place (FTP)'s Transitional Support (TS) Program is a multi-faceted team that can provide service in three main areas:

1. Legal support
2. Housing support
3. Transitional support

This team is dedicated to helping female-identifying individuals, with or without children, navigate these difficult and ever-changing systems. This program is filled with challenges that require out-of-the-box thinking and client-based solutions.

Other than the prevalent lack of safe and affordable housing resources, our clients are sometimes faced with challenges that go beyond resource barriers.

The impact of trauma, mental or physical health concerns, or addictions makes the challenge of finding housing even more difficult. We work individually with clients from all different walks of life to ensure a transitional plan is developed to help them work through these issues, towards safety and independence.

There are seven members of our TS team, all of whom deal with housing and legal issues in different aspects. Our Support Within Housing counsellor supports individuals with moderate to severe mental health issues who are having difficulty finding or maintaining housing. In a day, they could see several clients within the community, or in the client's home, but would be regularly communicating with other clients by phone in between.

Some of the tasks that might be completed in a day are working with the client to fill out housing applications, crisis management, conflict resolution, support with household tasks, and conducting community drop-in groups.

Our Transitional and Legal Support counsellors help clients navigate the legal and housing systems while supporting them with goal setting. The individuals they assist are all looking for something similar: stability.

This may mean safe and affordable housing or the settling of a tumultuous court case. They will assist with connecting clients to community resources such as Legal Aid Ontario, lawyers or housing support and are able to see clients throughout Dufferin and Caledon.

One of the challenges for the whole TS team is explaining the reality of the current state of housing in our community. It feels very discouraging to tell clients that we cannot provide housing to them.

Often, they come to us with the hope that we can solve their problems, but unfortunately, we have no control over the housing market and rent rates in our community.

Within our control, however, is reaching out to people in the community and ensuring that they are connected to resources. Our Housing Support counsellor and Community Outreach counsellor do this all the time. They are constantly out in the community working with individuals living in precarious circumstances such as encampments.

Through their respectful and compassionate work, they can connect with people who are homeless or recently housed and help support them to be successful. These two positions are funded through Housing, Infrastructure and Communities Canada funding. Through Coordinated Access we work with Choices Shelter and Support Services and Dufferin County Community Services to ensure that folks are supported throughout their journey.

Our Second Stage Housing counsellor does everything from rent calculations for a client moving into one of our housing units to working with clients in the shelter who are looking for housing to successfully move on from the shelter. No easy task when there is such a lack of affordable housing.

All of our staff meet clients where they are at — literally wherever they are in the community, but also where they are in their journey. Many clients are in crisis and the skill of the staff to walk beside and support clients is second to none. Staff empower women to be safe and to reach their full potential.

If you or someone you know needs support, compassionate staff are available to help 24/7.

New record set for local Smile Cookie Campaign, nearly $20,000 raised

Written By PAULA BROWN
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

The numbers are in and the Shelburne community has set a new local record for the amount of money raised through the annual Tim Hortons Smile Cookie Campaign.

The Rotary Club of Shelburne was presented with a cheque for $19,030 from Shelburne Tim Hortons on June 18.

"The support of the Tim Hortons Smile Campaign allows Rotary to support many local causes that might normally not be able to help," said Bill Waite, president of the Shelburne Rotary Club.

The Tim Hortons Smile Cookie campaign ran from April 28 to May 4 and during that time more than 9,500 smile cookies were sold in the Shelburne community. During the week-long campaign, the fundraiser was able to surpass last year's record-breaking donation by $2,000.

The money raised from the Smile Cookie Campaign will be used to support the Shelburne Food Bank, the Christmas Hamper Program, the Rotary Backpack Program and a number of other local causes.

"The Shelburne Rotary really has a pulse on the community and they have different organizations they work with. Knowing where the money can be spent and sprinkling it to the different needs of the community," said John Lewandowski, owner of the two Tim Hortons locations in Shelburne.

Tim Hortons first began the Smile Cookie campaign in 1996 to help raise funds for the Hamilton Children's Hospital and has kept the initiative going to help raise funds for community charities.

This year, the Smile Cookie campaign raised a record-breaking $22.6 million, supporting over 600 charities and community groups in Canada and the United States. Recipients included local hospitals, community care organizations, food banks and schools.

"[The Smile Cookie Campaign] is a collaborative effort between us and the community," said Lewandowski. "As much as it's donating the money to the community, it's the community donating money to itself. It really is a whole community effort."

Shelburne author Debra Jones holds book launch at Healing Moon

Written By SAM ODROWSKI

Shelburne-based author and acclaimed alternative health expert Debra Jones recently held a special book launch at Healing Moon in Orangeville.

On June 22, Jones celebrated the launch of her new book, "New Age Healer: A Guide to Creating a Future-Focused Healing Business" with a book reading, Q&A and book signing.

"The recent book launch was a resounding success, drawing a full house of both healers and non-healers eager to celebrate the book's release and meet in person. Attendees were delighted with the event, praising not only the book's content but also the design of its cover, which effectively conveyed the intended messaging," Jones explained.

"The atmosphere was lively and welcoming, with many guests having already pre-ordered the book, anticipating its value even before knowing its contents. This book follows [my] previous work, 'The Successful Healer,' and explores themes relevant to the next 2,000-year cycle of the Age of Aquarius."

Her first book, "The Successful Healer: A Practical Guide for Holistic Health," is geared towards holistic practitioners and also explores how to best balance one's life and business.

Building on that theme, "New Age Healer" provides a comprehensive guide to help holistic practitioners elevate and adapt their practices to meet a challenged healthcare system and evolving clientele.

"Through a series of engaging stories, practical exercises, and insightful reflections, Jones provides readers with a framework that nurtures connections, encourages prosperity, and supports personal development, enhancing the collective well-being of our world," reads a press release on the book's launch.

A highlight of the book launch event was the Q&A session where Jones discussed her inspiration for the book as well as futuristic themes, which are highlighted in "New Age Healer."

The audience found her insights into the future of healthcare captivating as they offered a hopeful vision for humanity.

"The crowd was enthusiastic, actively participating by asking questions and sharing personal stories that related to the passages read. The timing of the book's release seemed perfect, and there was no hesitation among attendees to purchase it, eager to dive into its pages," Jones said.

Shawna Ross, a registered social worker, medium, and holistic counsellor, based out of Caledon, shared her thoughts on the new book.

"Debra Jones's new book 'New Age Healer' is a mighty description of everything to consider and learn on the journey to embrace the honoured tradition of healing. It encapsulates a detailed, comprehensive overview on all aspects of your self-development towards being an evolved healer," said Ross.

Some key themes contained within "New Age Healer" include strategies for creating a sustainable and heart-centred business, leveraging technology and soulful marketing to connect with clients, and building a business that aligns with the path towards becoming a healer.

"This is the ultimate transformative guide written for our times. It provides the perfect foundation for creating a thriving healing business with sustainable values. This is priceless information for our troubled world," said Lisa Fitzpatrick, author of "Healing the Heart of Your Business: Sustainable Success for Heart-Centred Women."

Henry the Hiker takes his aspirations to Camino Frances, walking over 600 kilometres

"The mental part of it was much harder than the physical. Trying to know that there was an end," said Carola.

After completing their hike of the Camino de Santiago, the duo received the Compostela and a Certificate of Distance from the Pilgrim's Office in Santiago de Compostela.

The Compostela is awarded for completing a religious or spiritual pilgrimage, requiring a minimum distance of 100 kilometres on foot or 200 kilometres by bike and proof of the journey through stamped credentials. The Certificate of Distance is available to all pilgrims and details their specific distance travelled on the Camino.

"I really enjoyed watching Henry come into his own. He was in a country, where he didn't know the language, but he wasn't afraid to go up to people. He met people from around the world and everyone was very supportive of him. They thought it was great that a kid of his age was trying to take it on," said Carola.

In 2020, while quarantining due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Henry, who is an only child, began to go on daily explorations of a portion of the Bruce Trail that crosses through his family's property. During this time, his interest in nature and the environment peaked as he discovered animal tracks, different species of trees and plants, and insects along the trail.

Hiking regularly in five to 10-kilometre increments, Henry eventually completed the entire 67-kilometre Blue Mountain section of the Bruce Trail, and with that, sparked the desire to hike all 900 kilometres of the Bruce Trail. The trail spans end-to-end from the Niagara River to the tip of Tobermory.

From 2021 to 2024, Henry completed the Dufferin Hi-Land, Toronto, Beaver Valley, and Caledon Hills sections of the Bruce Trail, totalling just over 500 kilometres of the total 900-kilometre trail system.

Since then, Henry has expanded his hiking bucket list, adding the goal of completing trails in every province and territory in Canada. He has now undertaken hikes in Ontario, Manitoba, and Alberta. In September 2022, he summited Tin Hat Mountain, a part of the Sunshine Coast Trail in B.C., known for being the longest hut-to-hut trail in Canada.

Henry told the Free Press that he hopes sharing his journey hiking the Camino de Santiago will encourage other residents to take up the hobby.

"I don't expect too many people to think they should hike the Camino straight away, but I do hope for them to kind of ease into

New farm show to debut at Orangeville Agriculture Centre next February, starting new local tradition

A new winter tradition for the local agriculture community is coming to Dufferin County next year.

Nick Cadotte, general manager of Orangeville Farm show, proudly announces the launch of the show, taking place from Feb. 4 and 5, 2026, at the Orangeville Agriculture Centre.

"With over a decade of experience organizing trade shows and three years specifically focused on farm shows, we're excited to bring this event to Orangeville," said Cadotte.

"We understand just how vital farming is — not only to our local communities but to the national economy. Farmers are the backbone of rural Ontario, and this show is a way to recognize and support that."

Cadotte Events, the host of the show, also operates the successful Mid-Western Ontario Ag Expo in Clinton. The Orangeville Farm Show will continue the company's mission of creating local, accessible events that connect buyers and sellers directly — a welcomed alternative to large-scale national shows.

"Our goal is to build a show that feels local, where meaningful business connections are made face-to-face," Cadotte noted. "It's about bringing the ag community together under one roof."

Headwaters celebrates completion of $18 million fundraising campaign

Written By SAM ODROWSKI

Headwaters Health Care Foundation (HHCF) reached a major milestone on June 18 with the completion of its $18 million Smart Headwaters Campaign.

The campaign, which looks to revolutionize healthcare delivery in the community, has enabled Headwaters Health Care Centre (HHCC) to purchase new equipment and upgrade key areas. The campaign has enabled the purchase of an MRI machine and advanced CT scanner, renovations to its X-ray room, the deployment of 3D Tomosynthesis Mammography technology and upgrades to its Hemodialysis Unit.

"This $18 million campaign was ambitious, bold, and necessary," said Joan Waechter, chair of the Smart Headwaters Campaign Cabinet. "It ensures that our incredible healthcare team has the tools they need to make the greatest possible impact for patients and families across Dufferin-Caledon."

Taking an in-depth look at the campaign's results on community healthcare, the MRI machine, which becomes operational this fall, brings diagnostic imaging close to home for patients. Meanwhile, the advanced CT scanner will provide better imaging, using artificial intelligence (AI), and faster scan times.

Renovations to the X-ray room mean enhanced image quality, AI-supported diagnostics and pediatric imaging will be improved with a smaller detector as well as child-friendly adjustable components.

Meanwhile, 3D Tomosynthesis Mammography technology uses advanced imaging techniques and creates a three-dimensional image of the breast using multiple low-dose X-rays. The Hemodialysis Unit is newly renovated with nine treatment stations and the potential for future expansion to a total of 11. Upgrades include a reverse osmosis water purification system, ergonomic treatment chairs with customizable features, an in-floor scale for accessibility, private partition screens, and iPads for patient entertainment, in a bright, naturally lit environment.

To celebrate Smart Headwaters' completion, an event was held at HHCC on June 18, bringing together donors, volunteers, hospital staff, community members and dignitaries to reflect on the campaign's success.

Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones noted the lasting impact that the campaign will have on the people who receive care locally and lauded the community's generosity in reaching the $18 million goal.

"Thanks to your support, an MRI machine will be up and running at Headwaters this fall," said Jones, who's also Ontario's Minister of Health. "This is a monumental achievement. MRI technology is a powerful diagnostic tool that uses magnetic fields and radio waves to produce detailed images of the body's internal structures, without radiation. From brain injuries and spinal disorders to joint problems and organ diseases, MRIs play a critical role in modern medicine."

Data from HHCC shows more than 4,000 patients per year have to travel outside the region to receive an MRI scan.

"That's 4,000 trips to other parts of Ontario, often involving wait times, stress, and travel for patients and their families. Bringing an MRI machine to our local hospital is truly a game-changer for patients and their families," Jones said.

"This investment will ensure that patients can receive imaging here at home, leading to quicker diagnoses, faster treatment decisions, and better health outcomes. It is a significant step forward in strengthening our community's access to timely, high-quality care."

In addition to Jones, remarks were also shared by HHCF board chair Bill Duron, Foundation Board Chair, and HHCC CEO Kim Delahunty during the campaign celebration on June 18.

"Each speaker acknowledged the generosity, vision, and commitment that helped bring this ambitious project to life," reads a press release from HHCF.

"The campaign's success is a testament to the community's shared commitment to supporting exceptional health care, close to home," the release continued. "Thanks to the generosity of donors and the tireless efforts of volunteers, Smart Headwaters has helped the hospital to meet both current and future needs with compassion, precision, and innovation."

Cubs blanked by Lisle Astros in mid-week game in Mansfield

Written By BRIAN LOCKHART

The Mansfield Senior Cubs were hitting and playing a good defensive game when they hosted the Lisle Astros in Mansfield on Wednesday, June 18, they just couldn't score.

It was game 14 for the Cubs on the North Dufferin Baseball League (NBDL) regular season schedule.

The Astros were first on the scoreboard with a single run in the first inning.

In the first Mansfield at-bat, Zach Tomlinson singled, but that's all they could do for the inning.

Brad Pendleton caught a fly in deep centre field for the first out in the second inning.

The Astros managed two second-inning runs, both on big hits to the field.

The Cubs got a man on base on a walk, but they couldn't score.

The Astros didn't get a man on base in the third.

Mansfield got some hits in the third, but couldn't advance and there was no scoring.

A big Lisle hit in the fourth inning was caught by Patrick Newbatt in deep left field.

Lisle picked up another run when Liam Reynolds hit a single run home run to give the Astros a 4-0 lead.

The fourth inning started out well for the Cubs when Ryan Smith got a base hit and then made it to second on a steal. But that's all they could do for the inning.

Lisle scored three more runs to end the game with a 7-0 loss for the Cubs.

The Cubs now have a 3-10-1 record for the season.

The Bolton Brewers are in first place in the League with an 8-3-1 record.

In the standings, they are followed by the Owen Sound Baysox, the Midland Mariners, and the Ivy Rangers.

The Cubs will be back on their home diamond in Mansfield on Sunday, July 6, when they will host the New Lowell Knights. Game time is 4 p.m.

Blake Pyle took the mound for the Cubs to start the game.

Mansfield took an early lead in the second inning when Landyn Roncone hit to left field to bring in two runs.

The Cubs were leading 4-1 in the third inning when Hudson Milliard singled and then made it to third base. Two runs were scored when Peyton Matchem had a hit to deep field. Two more Cubs runs were scored when a player came in on a walk followed by another run when the umpires called a balk on the Barrie pitcher and advanced a runner.

There was no scoring in the fourth inning.

The Baycats scored a single run in the fifth inning to make it a 6-2 game.

In their final at-bat, the Cubs scored three runs on two hits to deep field.

Mason Fogal brought in another run on a hit that made it to the centre field fence.

The game ended in a walk-off when Matchem hit a three-run home run over the left field fence that evoked the 10-run mercy rule and the game was called.

The Cubs came out on top with a 15-5 win.

"I think it was an all-around good game," Matchem said after the Cubs' win. "We didn't have a lot of errors. We had good hitting tonight."

The Cubs U15 AA team will have three road games before returning to their home diamond in Mansfield on July 15.

Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Knights triumph in chase, Sudhakaran strikes hat-trick magic

Written By BRIAN LOCKHART

It was a thrilling week at the Shelburne Cricket Club as two standout contests lit up the pitch with explosive batting and unforgettable bowling at KTH Park in Shelburne on Saturday, June 21, and Sunday, June 22.

In the first match, the Knights were up against the Warriors.

The Knights chased down a stiff total of 162 set by the Warriors, whose captain Samir Patel led from the front with a solid 43-run contribution.

However, the match belonged to Harpreet Sandhu, whose blistering 79 off just 43 balls turned the tide. Combining power with precision, Sandhu dismantled the Warriors' bowling attack with ease.

With valuable support from the middle order, the Knights secured a commanding win.

Sandhu's match-winning innings earned him the Man of the Match and reaffirmed his place as one of the league's most dangerous batters.

In the second match of the weekend, the Gladiators were up against the Samurais.

The Gladiators had a clinical bowling display as they restricted the Samurais to just 61 runs.

The highlight of the game was Suresh Sudhakaran, who delivered a spectacular hat-trick, tearing through the Samurai lineup with unplayable deliveries.

The hat-trick rattled the opposition.

Gladiators made quick work of the chase and sealed a dominant win.

Sudhakaran's heroics with the ball earned him the Man of the Match.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

PEYTON MATCHEM

Mansfield Cubs 15U AA player, Peyton Matchem, is a big hitter who belted out the walk-off home run in the team's recent win over the Barrie Baycats.

A long-time baseball player, he brings a lot of experience to his team.

"I like bonding with the team and being out there and playing," he said of why he likes the sport.

When he's not on the baseball diamond, Peyton plays hockey with the Shelburne Wolves U15 A team.

RECOMMENDED READ

Scars & Stars by Jesse Thistle: Charting his own history, the stories of people from his past, the burning intensity of new and unexpected love, the complex legacies of family and community, and the beauty of parenthood, this collection is a profound meditation that expands his engagement with the ideas and experiences that have shaped his body of work thus far.

Why Molly recommends it: This small book bears a pretty cover speckled with stars, and contains within its pages a dynamic memoir of living unhoused, beautiful sketches of Indigenous plants, and heartbreaking poetry. You'll find themes of disappearance while living on the streets, dehumanization and how to move forward when one is truly broken. Thistle's heartbeat can be read in each line, using concrete imagery to teach the reader what it means to be 'legitimate' one day and to suddenly slip, and fall through the cracks of despair: literally. I found his references relatable, and his perspective refreshing. His garden is a major feature, and I think there is always profound truth to be found in the gardening-as-healing theme.
